Taped Interviews With Old-Timers Provide Window to Town's Past

Through the enterprise and hard work of a graduate student, born in Princeton 'way back in 1946, The Princeton Historical Society now has 120 hours of taped interviews with old-timers about the way it used to be, and what is almost more important, the nucleus for a continuing program of recorded oral history of Princeton.

For the rest of this summer, Princeton residents with memories are invited to Bainbridge House (158 Nassau, corner of Vandeventer — but you don't have to tell an old-timer THAT) any Wednesday afternoon after 1 p.m.

The young graduate student, Elric Endersby, will be the host. He'll have his tape recorder and he hopes that several guests will come at the same time, to exchange reminiscenses.

"I'd like to get several people from the same old school to talk about their school-days," he says, "and we want very much to have older residents look at our collection of 7,000 photographs and identify the people in them."

Mr. Endersby also hopes that these Wednesday gatherings will become a kind of permanent club for the older people of Princeton. He suggests that those who have family heirlooms might lend them for a special exhibit at Bainbridge House, and the Historical Society thereby become an instrument of living history.

For his project (destined to become part of his master's thesis), Mr. Endersby has talked with 80 Princeton residents over the past two years, ranging in age from mid-50s to a sturdy 97. Represented in his interviews are rich people and the descendants of slaves, merchants and University professors, farmers and teachers.

Last Thursday, Mr. Endersby and the Historical Society were hosts for these old-timers at The Hun School. Mr. Endersby showed slides he had made of the old pictures, and there were readings from many of the taped interviews.

● "I remember the way housewives used to gather every day at Bamman's to shop for groceries and gossip. It was the best grocery in town, there on the corner of Nassau and Bank where American Express is now . . . and everybody always stopped to chat along Nassau: times were more leisurely then."

● "Princeton Bank and Trust had places to tie your horse while you went in to do your banking."

● "There was a restaurant where Karl Pettit's brokerage place is (4 Nassau) and University students used to sign all kinds of outlandish names to checks when they wanted one cashed. Well, John D. Rockefeller III was a student and when he signed his name, the restaurant owner said,' I've had enough of all this! Now we have somebody who says he's a Rockefeller!' "

● "There was a corner drugstore where the First National Bank is now, and we could get a 5c soda there. That old bank building, I think it was built in 1908,

New Township Law to Help Small-Home Owners

The small-home owner is about to have his day in Princeton Township.

Under a new zoning ordinance adopted by the Township Planning Board Monday night and scheduled for introduction by Township Committee later this month, the owner of a small house can do some enlarging without going to the expensive route of a zoning ordinance.

He may also remodel his house to include a tidy little flat that could bring in rental money or provide living-quarters for grandma. And for the first time, the home-owner can legally take in a roomer.

Everybody in the Township is invited to Township Hall on Monday, August 14 and Monday, September 11 to discuss the new proposals with the planning board. These are not legal public hearings, but simply discussion sessions.

Public's Ideas. "We want to get the public's ideas," says Mayor John D. Wallace "and the final draft is subject to amendment after we've heard people's views."

The actual public hearing before Township Committee will probably be held late in September or early in October, the mayor said. And before that time, it's possible that Committee will seek out special groups or individuals to hear their thoughts.

The new ordinance is an omnibus measure that incorporates not only residential changes, but previous amendments to the 1955 zoning ordinance: the 1970 revision establishing the Education E-1 and E-2 districts; and the 1971 amendments concerning Business districts, the Shopping Center, Office Research and the new Professional Office-Residence district.

The new residential part of the ordinance does three things:

- Sets up three new residence districts: R-7 (south of the Shopping Center); R-8 (Jefferson, Moore, and Linden south of Guyot); R-9 (Birch and Leigh), and transfers 54 lots in the Woodland-Hilltop area of Route 206 to R-2.
- Establishes new regulations for these districts on lot size.
- Liberalizes rules for altering houses that are "prior non-conforming." That means houses that were built before present zoning laws were adopted and therefore do not conform to larger requirements.

Examples: In the proposed new R-7 district around Clearview and Tee-Ar, only one lot meets the minimum requirements of the district. The present required width is 100 feet. Under the new ordinance, it would be only 60 feet. Most houses here stand on lots 70 feet wide.

In the Jefferson-Moore-Linden R-8, only three lots meet the present 85-foot minimum. Under the new ordinance, the width would be set at 50 feet. Township planners estimate that 72 percent of the lots are 50 feet wide.

In the Birch-Leigh area, no house meets the required 85 feet. The new proposed width would be 40 feet, but even that is wide of the mark: most houses are built on lots 30 by 100.

This Is Princeton

What the board has done, in short, is to draw a new zoning map showing things as they really are. An estimated 500 Township homes are included in these changes: over 90 percent are now non-conforming.

The home-owner may, under these shifts, be able to make his house more liveable without a zoning variance because his plans will not be constrained by floor-area ratio requirements. As it is now, a householder may need a variance just to enclose a terrace, or convert his useless attic to living space, or even put in an additional bathroom.

The planners don't see why a home-owner can't add to the living space of his house without a variance, provided his plans don't violate yard setbacks or height limits.

And even here, the Planning Board has relaxed these limits and made them more flexible.

"Flats." Allowing a homeowner to build a small apartment within his house, or allowing him to have roomers, isn't related to Princeton's housing shortage, the Planning Board emphasizes.

But many home-owners who are elderly and living alone, whose children have grown and moved away, or who have lived in Princeton all their lives but find it increasingly expensive to stay here, — these people will benefit from the new proposals.

The planners believe the new, liberalized ordinance will also appeal to those who own large and expensive houses and may want to set aside a small apartment for relatives, or a companion.

"These changes are not a license to develop midti-family housing," the planning board says, "we stress that the owner MUST be an occupant....and such quarters must be small."

The planners like to call these units "flats" because the word "apartment" conveys the meaning of several in one building, and that's not the idea.

Such a "flat" must have living and sleeping space, cooking facilities and a complete bathroom, although the flat may be an "efficiency" unit. The ordinance uses percentages to define how large a flat can be. In a very small house, a flat might occupy up to one-half the house. In a large house, the allowed percentages drop, because the idea is to keep these flats small.

Anyone who decided to incorporate a flat into his house would need a permit. He would also need to provide parking space for his tenant.

Rooms. Taking in roomers is at present unlawful in Princeton Township but many home-owners have done it for years.

The new ordinance would let the householder rent rooms without cooking facilities to one or two tenants (if two, a separate bathroom would be required). The Township plans a companion ordinance requiring a health certificate showing that rooms meet state codes.

Schools. In this ominbus ordinance, the Township Planning Board also provides for private schools. Each school will be required to obtain a special permit from the zoning board before it can proceed with development.

Private schools have protested this in the past, because it means a public hearing before the zoning board but the planners think this procedure is a good one because of the impact schools have on any neighborhood.

The ordinance also wipes out the "look-alike" section which was designed to keep developers from building assembly-line houses. "The standards merely stereotyped the differences and accomplished nothing of substance," the planners decided.

Plan Public Housing for State Road

The 14.5 acre corner of Route 206 and Ewing is the site for a proposed low-income Federal housing project of 100 apartments, and the developer, Benedict Yedlin, will go before the Township Zoning Board next Thursday, July 20, to seek the required variances.

Meanwhile, neighbors of the proposed project have been invited to a meeting this Thursday with the Princeton Housing Authority to hear about details of the plan.

The Housing Authority has divided its 100 units into 50 for the elderly and 50 for families, in one and two-story buildings. Each group would have its own community center.

The arrangement is defined as a "turn-key" plan. Mr. Yedlin presented his plan to the Authority along with the site. If plans materialize, the Authority will buy back from him the land and buildings. At present, the property is under option for purchase.

The Authority and Mr. Yedlin need a use variance, off-street parking variance and variances in the gross floor area and yard-to-height ratios.

had the first elevator in town. And Boice's saloon, that was where Zinder's is now. The students used to go there."

● "But I remember when I was only about 10 years old, my father would send me to Skirm's to buy whisky. They would draw it for you right out of the barrel. And old men would be sitting in there, playing cards."

● "Kopp's Cycle Shop—four generations of Kepps, there were. And Mr. Kopp was a photographer, too, and had a small jewelry shop."

● "Renwick's used to have the best ice-cream—I remember watermelon sherbert! You could order ice-cream and Renwick's would deliver it to your home in a bucket."

● "The Leigh family—they had a lot of stores: a butcher-shop full of ice-boxes, and one Leigh sold groceries, and one had a store with ready-made suits for men."

● "George Murray had a real estate and insurance office. And I remember how fond of children Mr. H. P. Clayton was!" "I owned a children's shop over the old Baltimore Restaurant (82 Nassau, where Hinkson's now is), and I remember I paid $33 a month rent."

● "Where TOWN TOPICS is now, there was a pharmacy, Priest's Drug Store and they had jars of candy . . . and that whole part of town was retail stores. Farr's Hardware, where the little battle monument is, and a grocery. . . ."

Three generations of the Rose family were photographers, and Mr. Endersby showed slides of solemn and buxom ladies, posing for immortal portraits, and family groups whose fathers wore facial hair curiously contemporary in appearance.

Names from Princeton past and present — Rose, Conover, Updyke, Pyne, Van Cleve, Snook, Wyckoff, Leigh, Erdman, Marquand, Warren, Perrine, Stout, Hinds. . . .

Tough Part of Town. There was a Conover who lived on The Great Road and bred the mules that were used to haul boats along the canal. Port Mercer — that was a bad, tough part of town. The canal mule-drivers were a tough lot, and there was a murder down there once. You didn't go there after dark.

Grain barns and coal yards and a country store were there, at Port Mercer at the turn of the century. Today, it's just over the sharp bend in Quaker Bridge Road, as you drive toward Route One.

That country store sold molasses in barrels brought up from Trenton, sugar, children's stockings, shoes. And the owner would accept eggs in trade. Or you could buy them, 10c a dozen.

You could go to Philadelphia via the canal. Houseboats were on the canal, and there was family that brought its yacht and lived on it during Commencement, while their son was graduating.

Trolleys to Trenton. Another mode of transportation was the trolley — two lines to Trenton. The Johnson line took 35 minutes the other line, an hour. A lots of fights on the trolleys, between town boys and students.

"We black kids used to have to take the trolley to Trenton to school — there was no black school in Princeton . . ."

"I remember the trolley going along Witherspoon, with a stop at Spring. Women wore hobble-skirts in those days, and the men used to hang around the trolley-stop watching the women's ankles in those hobble-skirts as they climbed aboard the trolley."

"It was a rough, sea-sick ride. I got sick every time I had to go to the dentist in Trenton. The fare was 10c I remember Jack McCarthy's father was a motorman. He was studying law and working at the same time."

Houses were moved, casually and efficiently in the Princeton of 70 years ago. The New York Times even carried a feature about it.

One house was moved from Washington to Maple, down Nassau, and the Priest drugstore was moved back from Nassau to its present location on the spur of Mercer. One house was almost a run-away . . . another, the family stayed right in it while it was being moved. Even stone and brick mansions, they were moved, too.

Characters? Oh, yes!

"Ig" Huff Remembered. "I remember Ignatius Huff . . ." (everybody remembers "Ig" Huff). He lived where the public library is now and he owned a meat market, but he spent more time enjoying life than working hard for money — that's what they say. His brother Joe, was president of the First National Bank. (John Huff is president today).

Jimmy Johnson sold caramels, apples and cider from an old wheel barrow. Jimmy was black and the butt of the racial jokes of his day — he died an old man in 1902—but his wife made splendid candies — six for a nickel — and everybody remembered Jimmy.

Remember that dog that used to like liquor? Everybody has a different memory of his name, but everybody remembers how he staggered around University Field at Reunion time, and walked under the swinging saloon doors to get his nip.

Times, and how they change: World War I, little boys dug trenches in what is now the high school field and played at "war." One woman remembers knitting, knitting, every minute of her day. And there was always a Nassau Street parade, with a band, when boys went off to France.

Victory Garden. German professors at the University switched to teaching French, and there was some air war training at the University, using bi-planes. High-school-students had a Victory Garden at Williams and Washington. (The high school was in the building on Nassau now used by the University's graphic arts department.

"A great crusade — that's what World War I was to Princeton," one knitter remembers, "although Princeton was heavily hit with casualties."

One-room school buildings were the ancestors of today's multi-age classes, and the old-timers are amused at the parallel.

"The teacher moved from one grade to another, all day long. There were beginners, right up to 20 years old in the

Apartment Plan Tossed Back to Zoning Board

The plan to build 33 garden apartments on Terhune Road has been tossed back to the Township Zoning Board for a re-hearing.

It will probably be on the board's agenda for next Thursday, July 20 at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

The zoning board had unanimously recommended that Edward C. Kopp II be given the use variance required to construct the apartments.

But Committee sent the proposal back for a re-hearing, pointing out that the Zoning Board's recommendation was based entirely on testimony from Mr. Kopp and his own expert witnesses. Nobody else appeared before the board to discuss the matter.

When Committee itself held a hearing on the project, representatives of various Township boards and agencies raised questions about deficiencies and omissions in the zoning board's record, and Committee decided these questions were valid.

Also, Committee wants answers to certain specific questions:

- Is the need for such an apartment project fitted to that particular location?
- Would the project promote the general welfare?
- Could the land be used for any of the permitted uses in its zone?
- What about traffic, drainage and environmental impact?
- And what about the Township's Master Plan, which prohibits this kind of project, and the position of the Regional Planning Board on multi-family projects?

Committee approved the amended contract between the two municipalities and the Institute for Applied Psychotherapy and its drug program.

"IAP has been a meaningful force in the community," observed Committeeman James A. Floyd.

"IAP in general has done a good job, even though space has limited it to the treatment of only 50 kids," said Committeeman Barbara Smoyer.

Mayor John D. Wallace named Mrs. Miles Dumont, Cherry Hill Road, and Robert Sinkler, 307 Witherspoon, to the Recreation Commission for four-year terms. Mr. Sinkler's is a reappointment, Mrs. Dumont replaces William Bonthron.

"It's a great argument for consolidation," Mayor Wallace grumbled, as he announced that two Township board members are resigning because they are moving to the Borough.

One is Mrs. Barbara White, newly appointed to the Civil Rights Commission, the other is Mrs. Margen Penick, chairman of the Conservation Commission. No replacements were named.

MORE OPEN SPACE With New Johnson Home. Between 30 and 40 acres of land in what has been described as "a beautiful gorge" along a tributary of Stony Brook will become part of Princeton's Open Space under a conservation easement deed from J. Seward Johnson.

The arrangement, whose details are still being negotiated is part of Mr. Johnson's plans to build a new home on the 150 acres he now owns off the Lawrenceville Road.

The Planning Board last week gave Mr. Johnson both preliminary and final approval, with certain conditions on sewer construction and dedications of land for stream cleaning.

In his original plans, Mr. Johnson had a tennis court which impinged on the flood plain. The design has now been altered, and courts, house, buildings and formal gardens have been moved out of the Stany Brook floodway.

By an 8-2 vote, the Planning Board decided to allow Richard Rubin to build a house in the rear of the Beatty House on the corner of Vandeventer and Park. Mr. Rubin, who owns Beatty House, told the board Borough the new house would face Park Place. He still must go before the zoning board for variances.

A petition hearing 25 signatures, and several neighbors protested Mr. Rubin's plans. The board's "no" votes were cast by Bryan V. Moore and James A. Floyd.

PROTEST "IDA"

Ask Township Reconsideration. Members of the "Citizens in Search of Peace" have protested to Township Committee over plans of the Institute for Defense Analyses to move into Princeton Township.

IDA plans to build on North Harrison Street. Mayor John D. Wallace observed at Township Committee Monday night that IDA had Planning Board approval and a building that meets Township zoning requirements.

Members of the "Citizens" asked to be included in next Monday's Township Committee agenda, and Mayor Wallace said anyone could come and speak.

In a letter to Committee, the group declares that IDA's "work for the Department of Denfese is of the most secret nature and they are a division of a larger organization that researches the technology used in the destruction of the Indochinest people and the mutilation of the Indochinese earth."

The group points to IDA's plans for "a large brick building, surrounded by a barbed wire fence, with security guards, spotlights for night illumination nnd no indication of what is going on inside."

If a private corporation proposed such "a fortified structure for secret work it would be considered unacceptable," the Citizens say.

Mrs. Geulah Abrahams, for the Citizens, presented Committee with a petition opposing IDA.

Council Postponed

For the first time in at least 20 years, Borough Council adjourned Tuesday night because not enough Councilmen showed up.

With only Charles Cornforth and Arthur Morgan present, Council was two members shy of the number needed to pass any ordinance involving appropriations (and the new fire-engine purchase was on the agenda), and one member shy of the required number for anything else.

This meant, to the probable alarm of Borough creditors, that Council couldn't even pass the standard motion to pay the town's bills.

The meeting will be held next Thursday, July 20, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall. If enough Councilmen are around.

Sun Song

The high blue sky
Of mid-July
Can sometimes make things
Pretty dry.

Even with the uncomfortable humidity, the past few days of sun have been a welcome sight after all of June's rain. The weatherman forecasts more of the wet stuff on the way, however, possibly both Thursday and Friday if a tropical depression now in the Carolinas comes North as expected. A return to sunshine should come by the weekend.

BURGLAR IS NABBED

Entered Four Homes. A burglar, whom Borough police have charged with entering four homes, was apprehended Thursday by Sgt. Michael Kopliner and Ptl. Anthony Gaylord of the Township as he was running on Orchard Circle toward his parked rented car.

He was identified by Chief Peter J. McCrohan as Theodore Williams, 43, of Baltimore. He is being held in lieu of $15,000 bail in Mercer County Jail, pending an appearance here in Borough Court. He has been charged with breaking and entering and larceny and possession of stolen property.

At the time of his arrest, he had in his possession, police said, jewelry, cash and a large amount of old, silver coins allegedly stolen from the home of Mrs. John McCullough, 30 Boudinot Street.

Williams, Chief McCrohan said, has been in jail off and on since 1947. He reported that seven active bench warrants from other police departments are out for his arrest.

According to the police, Mrs. McCullough had just entered her home around 2 Thursday afternoon when she heard the rear door slam. She saw someone run from the house.

All cars in the area were alerted. Williams was grabbed as he was running to his car parked on Library Place. Chief McCrohan praised the co-operation of the Township

"Davids" Again Battle Penn Central Goliath

That doughty band of Princeton-area commuters known as the Princeton Invervenors will battle Penn Central again next week.

The commuters will go into action Wednesday, July 19 at 10 a.m. in the State Office Building in Newark at reopened hearings called by the state's Transportation Commissioner. They will once again protest the granting of a 10 percent fare increase.

William T. Sutphin, attorney who works in Newark and lives at 501 Jefferson Road, will again represent the Intervenors. Lined up with him as before in previous skirmishes with Penn Central, will be Dr. John Y. Barry, 193 Elm Road, an operations research expert; Steven E. Seadler, of Skillman, a management consultant, and Michael E. Curtin, 21 Turner Court, a financial analyst.

The opening round in the new dispute came on April 17, when Penn Central executive representative J.W. Diffenderfer wrote to Transportation Commissioner John C. Kohl submitting a financial study prepared for the railroad by Louis T. Klauder and Associates Philadelphia consulting engineers. The study, which concerns the operation of the "200" series trains between New Jersey points and New York City, was intended to answer certain "questions and objections" raised by the Princeton Intervenors at previous hearings May 4, June 1 and June 7, 1971.

The failure of Penn Central to submit such pertinent financial information in their original petition for the 10% increase (an omission pointed out by the Intervenors) had been the basis of the "stay order" granted by the Department of Transportation on December 27, 1971, that has, in effect, held up the fare increase for the past seven months.

According to Mr. Diffenderfer's letter the Klauder study "amply justifies vacation of the Department's stay order, thereby permitting the rates affected by said order to become effective."

Mr. Sutphin wrote Mr. Kohl May 11, requesting "an opportunity to cross-examine and respond to the testimony of the employee or employees of Louis T. Klauder and Associates who prepared the financial study."

Mr. Sutphin cited State laws which, he said, required public hearings in a contested case before an administrative agency. He also questioned the relevance of the Klauder study and added, "In any event, one does not just mail evidence to the judge."

This last point was apparently heeded by the Department of Transportation. In a reply dated May 22, Robert J. Bossolt, Deputy Attorney General, assured the Intervenors' attorney that "we do not intend to merely accept evidence without a hearing where the evidence can be introduced and subjected to extensive cross-examination by other parties of interest."

It was this decision that led to the recent notice of the reopened hearings.

The Intervenors say they will reiterate at the July 19 hearing the three main points they have argued over the past year:

● The economic date placed in evidence by Penn Central is insufficient to ascertain the results of the operation of the "contracted service" Penn Central is obligated to provide.

● The fare schedule proposed by the Penn Central does not deal evenly with all stations, destinations and localities, and therefore does not conform to New Jersey law and Federal law.

● Based upon the evidence presented, the Commuter Operating Agency should grant the petition of the Princeton Intervenors to require that all monthly commutation tickets be sold on all days of the month and be valid for 30 days from the date of issue." (Penn Central had proposed in their original fare-increase petition, placing all monthly tickets on a calendar-month basis.)

Regardless of the outcome, the pending state hearings do not represent the last line of defense, so far as the Intervenors are concerned. Mr. Sutphin has already filed an additional 37-page brief with the Interstate Commerce Commission calling for further proceedings, if necessary, before that Federal agency.

The brief requests that "the suspension order dated November 4, 1971, which is now in effect through July 12, 1972, should be extended for a sufficient period of time to permit the New Jersey Commuter Operating Agency...to complete their state administrative action upon the fare increases herein involved."

Mr. Sutphin estimates that the matter of the fare increase cannot be resolved "for another month at least" and may even carry over into the fall.

police. "If they hadn't spotted him, I feel he would have made it to his car and escaped," he said.

The suspect has also been charged with entering and ransacking the home of John Stewart, 34 Westcott Road (credit cards from the Stewart home were found in the McCullough home); entering and ransacking the home of Mrs. C.G. Gutherie, 9 Campbelton Circle; and the attempted entry of the home of R. Manning Brown, 50 Westcott Road.

MEETING TUESDAY

Of Recreation Board. The Princeton Recreation Board will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at 8:15 in Township Hall.

Although it is July, ice skating on Carnegie Lake will occupy the board for part of the meeting. Though there has been no decision, executive director H. Donald Barr of the Recreation Department, reports that the board feels that the supervision of ice skating at the lake "should be a community responsibility."

It's a big and complex situation, he said. "We have the unique situation of the lake being owned by the University, located in the Township and reaching into four or five other municipalities which border it."

He added that the board hopes to sit down with not only representatives from the University, Borough and Township but with the police and possibly service organizations to "try to come up with something feasible."

KART, MINI BIKE STOLEN

From Garage. A go kart and a mini bike valued at $270 were stolen last week from an unlocked garage at 871 Mount Lucas Road.

Owner Sylvester A. Weissenburger told Ptl. Renn Kaminski that many things had been moved from the garage onto the lawn and drive to reach the kart and mini bike. He placed the theft between 7 and 10 p.m. last Tuesday.

George Swartz of 447 Terhune Road, reported last week the entry of his home and the theft of a $200 stereo system from the living room. Nothing else was taken.

Ptl. Olindo Carnevale reports that the intruder broke a glass pane in a rear door to enter a game room.

Richard Lewis of Highland Park lost five stereo tapes, a screwdriver and a pair of wrenches from his car parked last week in front of 139 Linden Lane. Total value: $38.

Police said that a wire coat hanger was pushed inside a vent window to open the locked car.

An AM/FM clock radio valued at $50 was taken last week from atop a file cabinet at the Rug & Furniture Mart and Burd Carpet Service Company, Route 206.

A rock was used to break a rear window. The thief then stood on a metal fan frame to climb through a 12 by 18-inch window, police said. Fred Singer of 51 Red Hill Road reported the theft Wednesday morning.

CURTAIN GOING UP? Liz Hilst hammers down one of the final nails in Street Theatre's mobile theatre. The front conceals the stage, which pulls out from under the trailer like a drawer. The audience sits around three sides. Street Theatre opens its summer season this weekend, in Princeton and Trenton.

Alison Gaustad, 168 Alexander Street, told police that her pocketbook was stolen Sunday while she was swimming at the Community Park pool. Inside were a pair of sandals valued at $19 and $40 in cash. She valued the large convass pocketbook and wallet at $21.

She told Pfl. James Vandermark that she had left the bag with a nine-year-old boy sitting at he edge of he pool. He in turn reported that he did not see anyone take it.

ON STAGE!

Street Theatre Opens. When you talk about Street Theatre "opening," the word is literal. The big trailer that will be used as a theatre - opens up like a treasure chest to reveal the stage and all the excitement inside.

Street Theatre will hold its opening performances this Thursday at 8 p.m. on the front lawn of Princeton High School with repeats this Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m., Community Park field.

"Not Enough Rope," by Elaine May and "The Still Alarm" by George Kaufman are the star openers. If it rains, performances will be in the Borough Hall gym.

Whether the mobile trailer stage will be ready in time for this weekend is still a question, but about 25 or 30 young people, working with hammer and nail under the guidance of Liz Hilst, are driving for Thursday night completion.

Many individuals and organizations in the Princeton area have contributed to Street Theatre. The group has received a $2,000 grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, $1,700 from the Princeton Youth Fund, a special grant-in-aid from the Arts Council of Princeton and various individual contributions.

The summer program of theatre workshops and productions is open to any young person in the Princeton area, seventh grade and above. About 65 are now participating.

The mobile stage began as a 1952-model 35-foot trailer, torn down to its frame. All useable materials, like the aluminum siding, plywood and doors, were saved and used to rebuild the trailer into a traveling theatre.

Ted Woods, graduate student in architecture at the University, did the designing and directed the initial phases of the job. The Recreation Department assigned cutters and welders, and before long, the 20-foot frame began to resemble a mobile stage, with 16 x 20-foot acting area, dressing rooms and sound system.

Tools and building materials have been donated by Leon Barth, Princeton Electric, Unistrut, Jam Industries and others, keeping remodeling costs minimal.

For this weekend's opening double bill, Debbie Bellow and Kevin Colman are directing a cast consisting of Jill Berkelhammer, Geoff Becker, Liz Bolick, Walter Broner, John Wible, John Fischer, Miriam Lewin and Brad Stager.

After the Thursday-Friday-Saturday performances in Princeton, Street Theatre will travel to Cadwalader Park in Trenton for a performance this Sunday at 8 p.m. Rain date for Trenton, Thursday, July 20.

CAR HITS TREE

Two Are Injured. An 18-year-old driver and his passenger were injured last week when their small foreign car failed to make a turn on Hodge Road and slammed into a tree.

James J. McKee, 183 Jefferson Road, the driver, was taken in a patrol car to Princeton Medical Center where he was treated for contusions of the back. His passenger, Roberta Anderson, 19, 127 Carter Road, was admitted to the Center for a possible fractured hip, lacerations of the face and bruises of the arm and leg. McKee was ticketed by Sgt. Robert Anderson for careless driving.

According to the police, McKee's car swerved to the right while rounding the curve at Lafayette Road, jumped the curb, traveled over 30 feet of grass and struck a large sycamore tree on the property of J. Richardson Dilworth, 141 Hodge Road.

In his report, Sgt. Anderson noted that skid marks indicated that the car was going faster than the posted 25-mile limit. The entire right side of the McKee car was pushed in.

LUNCHEONETTE ENTERED

Meat, Cash Taken. The A&S Luncheonette, 86 Nassau Street, a favorite spot for thieves in the past, was entered again Friday by someone who broke open a rear cellar door.

Taken were 40 pounds of steak and 25 pounds of hamburger, valued at about $50

Watch Those Newspapers!

Don't put re-cyclable newspapers out for collection the night before—they will only be taken by scavengers.

That was the advice this week from Township Committeeman Barbara Smoyer to Township householders.

Newspapers should, instead, be placed at curbside very early in the morning of pick-up day, she advised.

Collections were down, in the last Township re-cycling period. Only 11.46 tons of newspaper were collected, compared to 15.07 the period before; 4.45 tons of glass were picked up, compared to 7 tons the previous week.

News Of The THEATRES

VONNEGUT

" . . Wanda June." Kurt Vonnegut Jr. takes a big big-game hunter and brings him baek home after an eight-year odyssey. When the hunter discovers that he is legally dead, that his dim-brained wife is now a college graduate and that America no longer pays homake to old-style heroes. . .

You have "Happy Birthday, Wanda June," second in Summer Intime's four-play repertory for this season. It will open this Thursday at 8:30 and will play again Friday and Saturday at 8:30 and Sunday at 7:30. Performances will follow the same schedule the following weekend. Place: Murray Theatre on the University campus.

William Hootkins will play the hunter, returning from his drama studies in London especially for Summer Intime. Penelope, his wife, will be Marcia Ellian, making her Summer Intime debut.

Dan Berkowitz will be Doctor Woodley, her suitor and Larry Strichman will be the hunter's pal, Colonel Harper. Both are well-known to Intime audiences.

Others in the cast will be Richard Ferrugio, Anne Louise Hoffman, William Bowman and Carmen Apelgren.

Phillip Billington, age 12, son of Professor and Mrs. David Billington, will make a guest appearance as the son.

BRASS CONCERT PLANNED

For This Thursday. The Eastern Brass Quintet, in a program ranging from Monteverdi and Bach to Hindemith and Amram, will perform this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the North Court of the Graduate College. Parking is available in the lot off Springdale.

The concert, second in the Princeton University Summer Chamber Music Series, will be held inside Proctor Hall of the Graduate College, same day and time, in case of rain.

Members of the Eastern Brass Quintet are Charles Baxter, french horn, who has been staff hornist with the American Shakespeare Theatre and has played solo horn with the Pierre Monteux Festival Orchestra.

Robert Fanning, trombone, has appeared as soloist with the Rochester Philharmonic and the Eastern Wind Ensemble. Richard Green, trumpet, has performed with the American Symphony Orchestra, the Camerata Orchestra of New York and the Israel Chamber Orchestra.

Tucker Jolly has been principal tuba and featured tuba soloist with the U.S. Coast Guard Academy Band and has played with the Dallas Symphony and the American Wind Symphony. William Wich, trumphet, also played with the Pierre Monteux Festival Orchestra, and was solo trumpet in the U.S. Military Academy band. He played principal trumpet at the American Shakespeare Festival and served as assistant conductor there.

CLASSICS

On Film. "Intolerance," "Twentieth Century" and "Long Day's Journey Into Night" will be screened next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p.m. in McCormick Art Museum as the next in Summer Intime's series of summer films.

D. W. Griffith's "Intolerance," to be shown on Monday, was one of the first multi-million-dollar epics; "Twentieth Century," with John Barrymore and Carole Lombard, is the classic screwball comedy; "Long Day's Journey" is the film of O'Neill's play that stars Katharine Hepburn, Ralph Richardson and Jason Robards Jr.

"CARMEN"

At Washington Crossing. Singers from the Princeton Opera Association will present Bizet's opera "Carmen" this Friday and Saturday and next Friday and Saturday, July 21-22, in the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing, N. J.

Performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. In case of rain, "Carmen" will be sung Sundays, July 16 and 23. Tickets may be purchased at the Park before the performances.

In the leading role will be Nancy Carnarius Jackson, graduate of Oberlin, and a veteran performer of Carmen. She has sung the part many times, including a performance with the New York Community Opera.

Don Jose will be sung by William Arnholt, who has also sung his role frequently—over 50 times. Mr. Arnholt studied voice with Anna Kaskas.

Escamillo the Toreador, will be sung by Clyde Tipton, a member of the music faculty at Rider College. Mr. Tipton, who has appeared in recital in Town Hall, has sung leading roles in Mozart, Verdi and Rossini operas, and has appeared in the Aspen music festival, as well as with the Princeton Opera Association in other productions.

Micaela will be sung by June Tipton on July 14-15 and by Sondra Van Sant on July 21-22. Mrs. Tipton has sung Gilda in "Rigoletto" and Gretel in Van Sant has also appeared in "Hansel and Gretel" and was in the Open Air "Kismet" earlier this season.

Others in the "Carmen" cast are Fresquite (Deborah Gardner on July 14-15; Jean Thomas, July 21-22); Mercedes (Eileen Young); Morales (John Woodard); Zuniga (Sal Maraziti); El Remendado (Mike Carrigan) and El Dancairo (Herman Smith).

Arthur Lithgow is staging this production of "Carmen" and Renita D'Ippolito is choreographer. Jean Delgado has designed and made the set and Pat Harding the costumes.

ANNE FRANK NEXT

At Clinton Theatre. "The Diary of Anne Frank," the third show of the Clinton Summer Theatre season opened this Wednesday and will run through Sunday.

Taken from the renowned book "Anne Frank: Dairy of A Young Girl, the play is based on a true incident. It takes place during the peak of the Nazi regime, when all Jews were forced into hiding in order to escape imprisonment and death.

The Franks, a German Jewish family, take refuge in an attic apartment with the Van Daans, a Dutch family. During the following three years, Anne kept a diary which is the story of their stay until they were captured.

Starring in the role of Anne Frank will be Randee Brenner. Miss Brenner joined the Clinton Summer Theatre troupe as Company Choreographer and a member of the acting troupe in 1971. She received special note for her choreography of "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Guys & Dolls" in 1971 as well as commendation for her performance in "Arsenic & Old Lace."

Also appearing in this production of "The Diary of Anne Frank" will be Barbara Kerr in the role of Mrs. Frank. In her first season with the Clinton Summer Theatre, Miss Kerr is a radio-television major at Ithaca College. In the role of Peter Van Daan will be Michael Slade who is appearing for the first time at Clinton Summer Theatre this summer and is also a student at Ithaca.

All tickets may be reserved by calling the ticket office at (201) 735-5625 or by writing 23 W. Main St., Clinton, N. J. 08809. The performances begin at 8:30 Wednesday through Saturday, and 7:30 Sundays. The Clinton Summer Theatre is located at the Old Music Hall which is two blocks east of the Clinton/Pittstown Exit off I-78.

CHOIR TO SING

In Riverside Church. On Friday evening, July 21, Robert Shaw, well-known choral conductor and music director of the Atlanta Symphony, will conduct Bach's monumental "St. Matthew Passion" at Riverside Church in New York City.

The concert, which is sponsored by Westminster Choir College will begin at 7:30 p.m. This New York performance will climax a two week workshop on the Passion which Mr. Shaw will hold on the Westminster campus.

The chorus will be comprised of more than 180 workshop participants augmented by the famous Westminster Choir which will be returning from Spoleto, Italy, where they are chorus in residence at the Spoleto Festival, in time for the

WHAT IS AN ORIENTAL RUG!

Kaoud Brothers, Specialists in Fine Oriental Rugs, will be lecturing and demonstrating the weaving of an Oriental Rug during the free exhibition of over 300 fine examples of genuine Persian and other Oriental rugs (Persian rugs will be given as door prizes every hour during the auction to promote the interest in this ancient art)

ON
WEDNESDAY, JULY 12,.1972
LECTURE AND AUCTION STARTS AT 7:30 PM.
EXHIBITION FROM 6:00 PM. UNTIL TIME OF SALE
AT THE WASHINGTON CROSSING INN
ROUTES 32 & 532, WASHINGTON CROSSING, PA.

PERSIAN RUG AUCTION
BY KAOUD BROTHERS —
SPECIALISTS IN FINE ORIENTAL RUGS

What is an Oriental Rug? The term Oriental Rug refers to any hand-made rug that is made in the Orient such as rugs made in China, India, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Iran and Turkey. The term Persian Rug refers to any hand-made rug made in Persia, better known today as Iran. No matter where they come from Orientals have few characteristics in common, they are all hand-made. Almost all have soft pile of thousands of knots usually wool, sometimes silk, as many as 800 to the square inch, all have rich designs and colors developed from centuries of tradition. The yarn is first dyed by hand with natural colors from minerals, insects or plants. Weavers then tie the yarn into knots row by row on a foundation thread strung on the loom

Weaving a large fine Oriental can take a family as many as 5 to 7 years to complete and then it is usually traded for a few head of sheep or a piece of land. A fact which is enough to turn most of today's generatioin away from the loom. This plus the fact that the Iranian Government passed a very strict law forbidding any child between the ages of 5 and 14 years of age from weaving will eventually make this a lost art. It has been a proven fact that a fine Persian Rug will increase a minimum of 10% a year in value.

Free pramotional exhibition and auctians of this nature are held by Kaoud Brothers with the cooperation of their overseas associates to promote the interests for Persian Rugs in this country and to help upgrade the life pattern of the traditianal rug weaving families af Iran in order to preserve this ancient art.

For pramotianal purposes Oriental Rugs will be given away as Door Prizes every hour during the auction plus a free catalogue with a full description of all the rugs in this collection.

The care that Oriental Rugs require is the same as far any good wool rug. A weekly light vacuuming and a profassianal cleaning every 5 or 6 years is advisable Orientol rugs can easily be spot-leaned with mild soap and water, a thin padding is required to keep the rug fram slipoing, ,otherwise enjoy your Orientals: WALK ON THEM, SIT ON THEM, LIE ON THEM AS THEY WILL GAIN BEAUTY AND VALUE BY AGE AND GOOD USE.

IT'S NEW To Us

MRS. G's NEW STORE

Is closer to Princeton. Mrs. G opened her new store about a week ago with a party — lots of punch and people. Located on U.S. 1 at Baker's Basin Road, the new building is long, low and very contemporary. It replaces the longtime Olden Avenue store which was destroyed by fire.

Inside, there's a tremendous variety of home appliances, set off by gold tweed carpeting and background music. It's all very spacious and cool for pleasant shopping. The air is electronically filtered.

Mrs. G. herself, a woman with a warm smile and 37 years in the appliance business to back her up, says of the 48 nationally-known brands on display, "If it's not seen in this store, it's not worthwhile having." And she adds, "If we sell it, we'll be sure and get it serviced."

The microwave ovens, she told us last week, have a market among families who haven't a lot of time for cooking. "The trend is to people going to business, husbands and wives, and they find the microwave ovens a great advantage because their food is heated in no time.

We saw microwaves by Amana, G.E. and Westinghouse in the store. THE TABLETOP Westinghouse particularly fascinated us with its sleek styling and compact size. Cooking time in a microwave oven is about one-quarter of the usual time. It makes for a cooler kitchen, too.

We learned at Mrs. G's that the major manufacturers of television sets are going into transistors now because the solid state set-up lasts longer and it copes well with the heat factor. Zenith this year will have its entire line in solid state, also Sylvania.

Also new in the color TV's is the gadget that locks in the color, line and brightness. Sylvania, RCA and Zenith feature it.

The Marble Look. There are a number of new designs in vanettes, the sink-and-cupboard combination that adds a decorator look to the bathroom. The marble-look top is in much demand right now, and we noticed that Mrs. G's selection includes a lovely shell-shaped basin. Others are rounded triangles or deep ovals.

There's a great choice of color and cabinet work. We saw a yellow bowl combined with a walnut-toned cabinet, a blue-flecked marble with white provincial, and many more. Prices range from $99.95 to about $119.95.

Interested in infrared ovens, we were intrigued with the Broil King bake-and-broil version that comes in three sizes, priced from $15.98 to $59.95. The Black Angus "Silver Chef" model includes a rotisserie, and the big new difference here is the manufacturer's addition of a catalytic coating process that makes the oven a self-cleaner. There is a four-hour timer as well as various heat controls. ($64.95).

The G.E. Toast-R-Oven is planned for frozen dinners, baked potatoes entrees, frozen pies, with the temperatures for each on the heat scale. Toast settings, too ,according to your choice of color. ($35.95) There's a smaller version, at $29.95.

In this section, we were quite surprised by the variety of waffle irons, grilles, electric clocks, clock-radios, mixers and blenders available. The brands are all ones that you know.

Mrs. G. has a good display of air conditioners and electric fans, too.

Among the kitchen stoves, which seem to stretch for miles, we were attracted to the big Caloric ranges, and others by Vesta and Frigidaire. Many give plenty of working space between the heating units and some have two ovens. Whirlpool offers the "Connoisseur," with a fascinating panel of 10 dials for meticulous control. The Magic Chef has a slim warming oven above the range.

The Washers. Maytag continues to be "No. 1 in Consumer's," Mrs. G. told us, and one of her staff stopped by the model with the wringer in back and laughed, "They still make them, and they're terrific machines!" Maytag also is making mini-washers — perfect for an apartment or a vacation house. Mrs. G is the oldest Maytag dealer in this area, some 35 years. She has her own service for the machines, as well.

Washers offer such a choice, depending on your particular needs, that we only mention that we noticed some splendid models with programmed soak cycles. Brands include G.E., dryers to choose from including portables.

There's a whole wall of refrigerators at Mrs. G's, ranging from the new compact in white enamel by Sanyo to big, double-door freezers.

Mrs. G. sells stereo units, trash compactors, dishwashers steam irons, hair dryers, vacuum cleaners, electric brooms, and more. When you are in the market for a home appliance, a stop at her store would be very sensible and price wise.

The store is open six days a week from 9 to 9.

HERE'S MRS. G, ready to welcome you into her new and shining store on U. S. 1 and Baker's Basin Road, a cool place to look for good buys in home appliances.

Chessboards, Fins & Mugs. Princeton University Store can never be taken for granted. There's no telling what you'll find, once you are able to escape the alluring book trap on the first floor. We were caught there on Friday by George Gallup's timely book, "The Sophisticated Poll Watcher's Guide."

seum statuary, which we thought would make nice gifts for a hostess, we found upstairs a rack of handwoven tops from India. Loose and cool to wear over bathing suits or pants, and in tasteful, cotton weaves ($5). And from Guatemala, pure cotton again in much heavier stuff, with inserted designs in the center back. The design is usually the quetzal, embellished and framed in intricate stitchery. More embroidery on some at collar and cuff. The fabric comes in earth tones and the sizes are quite generous. ($12) We mention these not only because they are so attractive, but because pure cotton is so cool.

There are other cotton tops, too, some reaching to perhaps below the knee. The Guatemala striping is very lovely, and it is vertical so we seem a bit slimmer.

Nearby, are bowl shapes of woven straw in a variety of strong colors. You could fill them with dried flowers or add a ribbon and wear one on your head at the beach. And for your wall, or to use as a table runner or inset-panel in a long skirt, narrow lengths of handweaving in joyous fanciful designs.

Housegifts. The University Store has a supply of Belgian linen placemats in neutral, beige, for instance, with accompanying napkins of complementary colors — a yellow, a blue, a white and a pink — an attractive set for $6.95.

There are printed tea towels galore, for your weekend hostess and Irish porcelain in lovely tones of deep blue under a gray-green finish. The Irish items are interesting enough to fill with flowers. Goblets ($4.50); a low mug with a painting of Finn MacCoul ($3.50); glasses for Irish coffee, large mugs ($8.25).

Among the housewares, small, lidded casseroles in white with designs of mushrooms and butterflies sketched in black ($2), made in Japan. And also Japanese bowls in dark stoneware, rising from a narrow base to fat sides and closing sharply with a small opening. All in earth browns and sienna tones.

Off And Away. For travelers, the U-store has collapsible umbrellas, and canvass totes ($3 and 5) with edges and straps in contrasting colors. The larger size has an outer pocket that zips to close. Great for the beach or for your library books and incidental shopping.

For campers, or by and in the swimming pool, consider the U-Store's inflatable furniture of heavy vinyl. An overstuffed chair is $12.95, and a square hassock is $2.

Since chess publicly is causing a surge to the shops, we alert you to the U-Store's plentiful and varied supply of boards and pieces.

The range goes from Travel Chess to sculptured figures five inches tall. There are conventional pieces; handcarved pieces from France; magnetic sets and even "Duplicate Chess" to be played by two teams of two people each.

"Snarky" is a new game—or games — to explore. Devised by John Searne, the set evolves into 30 different playing games for adults and bright kids. ($5.49).

The University Store has judo outfits to wear, Samsonite luggage (downstairs), knit shirts for men, tennis stuff, snorkels, fins (upstairs) and more, providing you can tear yourself away from the new books on the first floor.

TRYOUTS SET

For "Iolanthe." Auditions will be held this Thursday, Saturday and Monday for a performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe" to be given in late August or early September. Performance dates are still tentative.

"Iolanthe" will be produced by the Princeton University Gilbert and Sullivan Society and directed by Tonia Vogel. Auditions are open to anyone and no previous experience is necessary.

Tryouts will be held this Thursday at 7 p.m.; this Saturday at 2 p.m. and next Monday at 7 p.m., all in Room 110 of the Woolworth Center on the Princeton University campus.

There are also openings for technical workers and stage crew. Additional information may be obtained from Tonia Vogel, 924-5647, weekdays after 5:30 p.m.

GARDEN

The Hospital and Sunday, Bloody Sunday (now playing). Paddy Chayefsky's farce about murder and mayhem in a city hospital stars George C. Scott as a disillusioned physician who hasn't been making his rounds. Diana Rigg turns up in a fringed mini skirt and considerably unsettles him.

The serio-comic plot revolves around unexplained deaths in the hospital and the girl's father, a former Boston physician who has shucked it all for life on an Indian reservation. Brought to the hospital in a dying condition, and surrounded by witch doctors, he causes a considerable amount of havoc. For the most part a black comedy, there are several hilarious scenes.

"Sunday Bloody Sunday" is a sophisticated film about an unusual love triangle involving Glenda Jackson, Peter Finch and Murray Head. Director John Schlesinger delves into offbeat relationship as he did in "Midnight Cowboy."

The film's most important sequences comes not at the end of the film, or in Miss Jackson's or Finch's relationship to their common lover, but in their extraordinary confrontation of each other. The film is objective, most coldly scientific.

"Hospital" will be shown at 6:30 and 10 p.m., and at 1 p.m. on matinee days. "Sunday" is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. and at 2:45 p.m. on matinee days.

PLAYHOUSE & BRUNSWICK

What's Up Doc? (now playing) is a comedy with Ryan O'Neal as an absent-minded musicologist and Barbra Streisand as the free-spirited girl who keeps getting him in trouble with his straight-laced fiancee, Madeline Kahn.

The film is very much in the mood of the comedies of the Thirties. There's a chase scene that is elaborate, extremely funny, and covers much of the city of San Francisco. The best and funniest moment comes in O'Neal's hotel room where one insane disaster comes on top of another.

While the two leading actors are capable, it is Madeline Kahn who really brings out the spirit and fun of the old comedies. Not until the climactic scene, where all the characters are gathered to tell it to the judge does the film take on the satiric thrust and note of anarchism that was a key intention of the screwball comedy.

Quote of the week

"The soul of a man has a series of concentric envelopes round it, like the core of an onion, or the innermost of a nest of boxes. First, he has his natural garment of flesh and blood. Then his artificial integuments, with their trun skin of solid stuffs . . . Thirdly his domicile, be it a single chamber or a stately mansion. And then, the whole visible world, in which Time buttons him up as in a loose outside wrapper."

Conflict of Interest?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have sent a copy of the following letter to the New Jersey Chapter of the Sierra Club.

PHYLLIS MARSTELLER
9 Mercer Street

Until Thursday, July 6, 1972, I thought that the Sierra Club "devoted itself to the study and protection of scenic resources and wild places around the world." Thursday, July 6, 1972, I read in TOWN TOPICS that the chairman of the New Jersey Chapter of the Sierra Club is Stockton Gaines, "who works in computer science research at the Institute for Defense Analysis."

Is it possible that the aims of the Sierra Club have changed? Perhaps the general public deserves an explanation. Otherwise it would seem that the aims of the leader of the New Jersey Chapter of the Sierra Club are to study and protect scenic resources and wild places in the United States of America and to subject scenic and non-scenic resources in certain other parts of the world to war and devastation.

Mr .Gaines Replies

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am deeply sorry to see such a letter as Phyllis Marsteller's. It is typical of some bigoted and irrational remarks made about the Communications Research Division of I. D.A. and its employees by a small group of Princeton people.

I am distressed at the unthinking Pavlovian reaction this coterie has to anything which does not agree with their point of view, their willingness to pass moral judgments on others based on little or no evidence, their willful refusal to acquaint themselves with all of the relevant facts involved in issues on which they take public stands, and their intolerance for alternate positions.

Ms. Marsteller did not have the grace to contact me and inform herself of my opinion or position on the matters for which she castigates me, but she is quite willing to condemn me in public based on her lack of information about me.

Ms. Marsteller obviously has her own political reasons for her attack on me. I hope it does not have the unfortunate consequence of interfering with the Sierra Club's and my ability to work with others in the Princeton area to find solutions to the many environmental problems which face us.

STOCKTON GAINES

Trenton,

Tax Reform Attacked.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

To the roses that Mayor Wallace and Committee are heaping upon Gov. Cahill's tax program. I'd like to add one that does not smell as sweet.

The governor proposes for Princeton the highest tax rate in New Jersey upon already grossly inflated real estate valuations. An income tax is being sold with the sweetener of lower property taxes for most other areas of the State.

Even if this "soak the rich" attempt could be justified, New Jersey residents would have to be naive in the extreme not to see the reduction as temporary as the 3 percent sales tax. We shall have an escalating property tax upon an escalating income tax and nothing in history promises otherwise.

It may surprise the governor to learn that there are in Princeton more pretty princedings on salary than there are bona fide dukes and earls who bought Polaroid at 2½.

We have survived personnel cut-backs and small business failures and, like Alice in Wonderland, are running all our might to stay in the same place. Commuters to New York have the added pleasure of taxation without representation in increasing doses.

I suggest the governor take another look at his tax package, especially real property taxes. As his proposals now stand, they are the perfect device for turning Princeton into a genuine "Golden Ghetto" - for 24 carat nabobs only.

Drug Study Questioned.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am writing in response to your article in last week's issue, regarding the findings of Doctors Ball and Blaser. It is stated that they met with leaders of various drug programs.

As the director of the only municipally supported drug program in Princeton and as a member of the Committee of 13, I can only say that no consultant, doctor or otherwise, made any attempt to communicate with any of the I. A. P. staff, nor did they visit our facility to make any assessment of our program or our effectiveness.

Further, to my knowledge, no contact was made with any other members of the Committee of 13, which is made up of individuals actively working with youth in the area of drug abuse.

I realize that one day is too short to come up with a comprehensive evaluation of this community's problems and needs in the area of drugs. I question, then, why this "evaluation" was contracted for in the first place.

Most importantly, I question why the results of their visit were "sold" to the public as recommendations based on an evaluation more complete than, in fact, it was.

To be sure, Princeton is sorely in need of a concerted effort in combatting the problem of drug abuse. The whole issue of drugs has been used as a political football, which is hardly conducive to finding EFFECTIVE solutions.

I feel that if Princeton Medical Center wanted to soonsor a thorough evaluation of the problem, this would be met with enthusiasm and gratitude by all concerned. But the effort of Doctors Ball and Glaser was neither thorough nor an evaluation, and it should not be considered as such.

Shoplifter Caught. The manager at Davidson's Market on Nassau Street flushed another shoplifter Friday.

Police charged and later released Emmett Murphy Jr. of 136 Alexander Street, who allegedly took several items from the store. He faces a hearing in court here.

LOSES LICENSE

For Leaving Accident Scene. Denise S. Cook, 194 Washington Street, Rocky Hill, had her license suspended for 30 days last week in Township court and was fined $30 for leaving the scene of an accident. A fine of $15 on a second charge of careless driving was suspended by Judge Burton Peskin.

Jonathan J. Muntener of Orchard Road, Skillman, was fined $25 for failing to stop for a flashing red light, while Theodore D. Kolvites, 19, Line Road, Belle Mead, paid $20 as an unlicensed driver.

John H. Wells, 19, 448 Walnut Lane, was fined $30 after he pleaded guilty to trespassing May 16 on land owned by Dean Mathey of The Great Road. Ptl. Mario Musso was the complainant.

In Borough court Monday, Kathy A. Zinsmeister, 18, Cranbury Road, Cranbury, was fined $15 for careless driving.

Werner Braun, 58, 72 Mason Drive, was fined $5 for parking in a no-parking zone, an infraction which led to an accident.

NEW PARKWAY URGED

To Parallel Route 206. Rather widen Route 206 at various points between Princeton and Trenton, Mercer County officials would like the state to build an extension to the Artic Parkway in Trenton, which would reach all the way up to Princeton connecting with Route 206 North in the northwestern section of the Township.

The County Freeholders have joined with Lawrence Township officials in asking the State Department of Transportation to cancel plans to widen Route 206 to four lanes in a section near Eggerts Crossing Road. They will meet with Lawrence officials to discuss the Artic Parkway alternative.

The new road would extend from the present Artic Parkway north from Spruce Street passing to the West of Lawrenceville and would connect with Route 206 in northwestern Princeton Township. Part of the alignment would be over the Johnson Trolley line, now a Reading Railroad property, according to county plans.

How the route of this size would be put through this prime residential area of the Township is anybody's guess, but there is no question as to the opposition it would arouse.

Our Silver Lining...

We believe that our role is to offer constructive criticism to local government. We do not want to nag about Princeton's 400 idle acres which could be producing $2,000,000 in taxes (thus reducing our tax bills by 27%!). But we do believe it is our duty to point out that Town Houses and Condominiums on those 400 idle acres . . . occupied by ADULTS and middle-income citizens . . . would produce few additional school children. However, Town Houses and Condominiums for Adults would produce millions in extra tax revenues which would be a Net Gain for the Township.

That's the "silver lining" to our black cloud of taxes. And we hope it will be good news to our elected officials. We are sure that they want to help local residents who are anxious to stay in Princeton, yet must move into smaller quarters. And we hope they will welcome this opportunity to help . . . and, at the same time, show a profit!

POLICE MAKE ARREST

In Watts Store Robbery. Willie Snow, 33, of Trenton, has een arrested by Township police and charged with the June 8 robbery at Mary Watts store on Route 206.

Snow is presently in Mercer County Jail, a fugitive from Delaware where he is also wanted for robbery. Township detective Samuel Bianco reported that Snow's arrest was the result nf a long investigation. A warrant is out for another suspect in connection with the Watts' robbery, he added.

During the robbery, Mrs. Watts was struck and knocked to the ground and robbed of about $100.

TWO MEN JAILED

In Sewing Machine Caper. Two men purchased a $209 sewing machine March 31 from the Singer Co. in the Princeton Shopping Center. They paid for the machine with a check.

As a result, Frank P. DeFelice, 27, of Netcong had been charged hy Township police with possession of a stolen check (stolen in Hamilton Township); forging a blank check; and larceny of a sewing machine.

The Township police have detainers on DeFelice who is presently in Essex County Jail on other charges.

Also arrested last week is Thomas E. Mullen, 40, of Mine Hill.

He has been charged with aiding and abetting DeFelice and with trying to forge a check. He was later released, pending the setting of a court appearance in Township court.

NEWARK MAN TREATED

For Gunshot Wound Here. The Princeton Medical Center called Borough police Friday morning to report that they had just treated a man for a gunshot wound.

When Ptl. David Lewis investigated, the victim, identified as Edward Henneberry Jr., 30, of Newark, told him that he had been held up and shot in Newark the night before. He was admitted to a Newark hospital.

According to Borough police, Henneberry fled the hospital and started to hitchhike. Weakened from the loss of blood, he is reported to have reached the Neuropsychiatric Center in Skillman which wouldn't admit him in his condition.

He was then taken to Princeton Medical Center and treated, although, police said, the bullet in his stomach was not removed. He was later released after being charged as a material witness in a hold-up.

PILOT PROGRAM BEGUN

In Housing Inspection. A computer-oriented system designed to increase efficiency, expedite housing inspections and generate some $2 million in additional revenues, under the Hotel and Motel Multiple Dwelling Act of 1967, has been introduced in a pilot program by the Bureau of Housing Inspection, New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, under the direction of Lawrence F. Kramer, Commissioner.

According to Charles Mathews, who heads the Bureau of Housing Inspection, 13 staff inspectors, one-third of the full complement, have been supplied with portable IBM electronic dictating units, supervised by Donald Walker.

Those so equipped make verbal reports of housing conditions and violations as they move through the buildings, in contrast to the prior system which involved note-taking and hand-written reports. To assure uniform reporting suitable for immediate data conversion, a key-coded schedule is attached to each unit, spelling out violations from a positive approach such as "repair . . . replace . . . provide."

Inspectors' tapes are transcribed for immediate data conversion to provide a fool-proof record of inspection reports and a multi-purpose statistical data bank for a wide range of uses by the Bureau.

Mr. Mathews said the new system was given a test run early this year to determine its efficiency. Units were supplied to three members of the inspection staff and used with controls in the inspection of both new construction and existing buildings in urban and semi-rural areas.

In one round of inspections, the unit-equipped inspector completed his assignment in 18 minutes. His control, an inspector following the manual system, took 53 minutes to do the same job.

Mathews says that in addition to expediting the inspection process, the new system will bring greater efficiency. With the old system, he notes that more than 25 percent of the cases would bring callbacks from building owners questioning clarification of reported violations.

The teacher everyone remembers was Miss Snook, and she appears in countless class photographs. "she was the best . . ." "I learned from her . . ." "Never another one like her . . ."

Indian boys from Carlyle, Pennsylvania, sometimes came to Princeton to work on the farms, and went to the Princeton schools . . .

Come and Talk! It's all there, in the Endersby tapes, and probably riches unmined are still to come. The oldest resident Mr. Endersby talked to was Mrs. Sophie Hinds, 97, whose father came to New Jersey as a run-away slave. Close behind is Billie Swan, who came to Princeton to cook for the Erdman family in the 1920's, when she was in her own 40's.

Incidentally, Mr. Endersby is skeptical when people say Princeton's black families came here as the slaves of students in pre Civil War days. He points out black families like the Hoaglands and Van Zants with old Dutch names, and he says many black families have been in Princeton for four or five generations.

Do you "remember when"? Can you play "I remember" Come around, Wednesday at 1 o'clock, to Bainbridge House. Remember when it was the public library? And before that, back before any of you were born, in the Revolutionary War . . .

Obituaries

Raymond S. Van Dyke, 75, former mayor of Hopewell Borough, died July 11 in Mercer Hospital. He operated the R. S. Van Dyke Insurance Agency.

Mr. Van Dyke, who lived at 112 West Broad Street, Hopewell, was a former cashier for the Hopewell National Bank. He was president of the Hopewell Savings and Loan Association.

A veteran of World War 1, he was a member of American Legion Post 339 of Hopewell, the Hopewell Fire Department and Hopewell Lodge 155, A&FM, the Tall Cedars of Lebanon.

In addition to serving as Borough mayor, he was also a former member of the Hopewell Borough School Board and a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Hopewell.

Surviving are three grandchildren, Scott, Kim and Gregg Wagner, all of Pennington, and a brother, Herbert Van Dyke of Panther Valley.

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in Highland Cemetery, Hopewell. The Rev. Robert Beringer will officiate.

Mrs. Florence Vogt, formerly of Princeton, died July 11 in Meadow Lakes Village Hightstown. She was the widow of Henry Vogt.

A Princeton resident for two years, Mr. Vogt lived in Summit for 35 years. She was a member of First Presbyterian Church of Princeton, the Fortnightly Club of Summit, a board member of the Memorial Home for Women, South Orange, and a former member of the Present Day and Women's Clubs of Princeton.

Surviving are one son, Roy of Dummerston, Vt., formerly of Princeton; a daughter, Mrs. John Devlin of Maclean, Va.; five grandchildren, and three sisters, Mrs. Park Becker of Wormleysburg, Pa., Mrs. William Mersereau of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Edmund Miller of Long Island.

The service will be held at 11 a.m. this Thursday in the Miles Chapel of First Presbyterian Church. Interment will be at the convenience of the family. There are no calling hours. The Mather Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Dr. Earle K. Miller, 72, of 12 Maple Lane Pennington, died July 11 at his residence. He had been a physician in the Pennington area for the last 18 years.

Husband of the late Dorothy S. Miller, he is survived by one son, Bruce of Lawrenceville; and one daughter, Mrs. Barbara Blauth of Solebury, Pa., one brother, Dr. Samuel Miller of Pennington; one sister, Mrs. John Wirth of Philadelphia and three grandchildren.

A priviate service for the family will be held from the Wilson Home for Funerals with burial in Monmouth Memorial Park.

Chester H. Cleaver, 87, of 522 Deal Lake Drive, Asbury Park, formerly of Princeton, died July 3 at Foothills Acres Nursing Home, Neshanic.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mildred D. Cleaver; two sons, William P. of Cranford and John P. of Princeton, and four grandchildren.

A private service was held. The Mather Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Joy T. Lott of 5 Toth Lane, Rocky Hill, died July 4 in Princeton Medical Center. She was the wife of Gary C. Lott. Also surviving is a son, Carl C., at home.

A private service was held, with arrangements made by J. Brent Barlow. Memorial gifts may be made to the Princeton Medical Center.

William B. Fell, 54, of 41 Gooseneck Road, Levittown, Pa., formerly of Pennington died July 7 in Helene Fuld Hospital. He was former vice-president of the Fell and Moon Company, Trenton, and born in Trenton, he was a Princeton University graduate and, at the time of his death, was an insurance broker for Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. He was treasurer of the Princeton Alumni Club, a member of the board of directors of Helene Fuld Hospital, a member of the Princeton National Association of Life Underwriters, and of the Trenton-Mercer Chamber of Commerce.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary W. Fell; three sons, Peter and William, both of Titusville, and Henry Fell of Trenton, a daughter, Miss Betsy Fell of Titusville; three grandchildren, and his father, C.D. Fell of North Carolina.

A requiem liturgy was celebrated in Holy Trinity Ukranian Church. Interment was in Ewing Cemetery.

Mrs. Anita Willis, 73, of 406 Rosedale Road, died July 7 at her home after a brief illness. She was the widow of Harold S. Willis.

A Princeton resident since 1952, Mrs. Willis was a native of Flushing, L.I. Prior to coming to Princeton, she lived in Great Neck, L.I. She was a former board member of the YMCA and of the American Red Cross.

Surviving are one son, Robert S. Willis, with whom she lived; two daughters, Mrs. Leslie Vivian Jr. of Princeton, and Mrs. Stanley Knowlton of Carlsbad, Calif.; 10 grandchildren and one brother, Robert J. Storm of Glen Cove, L.I.

The service was held in Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. E. Rugby Auer officiating. Interment was in Trinity-All Saints Cemetery. Memorial gifts may be made to Princeton Medical Center. Funeral arrangements were made by the Kimble Funeral Home.

PERHAPS YOU SENT a lovely card,
Or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a funeral spray,
If so, we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
As any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us tha day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much, whatever the part.

The Grovers and McEwens.

MRS. ROSE TAMMARO and family would like to thank the nurses on the 2nd and 3rd floor of the Princeton Hospital for the care and devoted attention they have extended to their late beloved husband and father, Charles G. Tammaro.

THE FAMILY of the late Ulia Mabel Sandifer wish to extend their thanks to all their friends and relatives for the floral tributes, donations and other acts of kindness shown during their recent bereavement for the loss of a dear loved one.

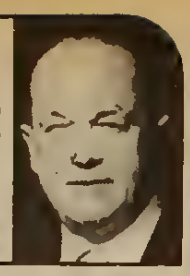
The Governor's VIEW



By Gov. William T. Cahill

Just a little over two weeks ago I signed into law the 1972-73 budget which I have called a hold-the-line budget because it contains a few new programs, and the increasees in existing programs are held to an absolute minimum.

As with most things in government where strong opposing views frequently clash, the budget represents a compromise. It contains provisions, not for all the programs I would like to see in operation in the State, but as many of them as I felt we could afford at this time.

I am sure there are some people, whose project or interest was not included, who feel it was more important than some which were included. Thee are bound to be such people unless every proposal and project is included and no state could afford the billions that would cost.

There are others who feel that the budget now contains too many programs and, therefore, too much spending and that it should have been cut back. To them I can only answer that I submitted to the Legislature what I considered the bare necessities of what is required, and the Legislature added another million dollars of expenditures to it.

Economies Pursued. There are also some persons who believe that budgets can be reduced by some nebulous and unspecified economies in the operation of State Government. I can assure them that economies have been exhaustively pursued.

One of my first acts after assuming office was the appointment of a management study commission whose efforts and recommendations in streamlining government operations resulted in savings of more than $50 million to the taxpayers of this State.

Governments are no different than businesses or even households in that they have to have the necessary funds in order to operate. First of all, there are obligations for which there are no options.

These are commitments that previous governors and legislatures have made that must be met every year. It can be compared to the homeowner's mortgage payment that has to be paid every month, regardless of other demands or desires he may have.

Secondly, there is the problem of inflation. The costs of the goods and services the State purchases are rising, the same as they are rising for every householder and every businessman and are beyond the control of the State.

Lottery Funds Help. To meet these increased costs, we have had to raise additional revenues and the primary source of State funds is, of course, taxes. We were able to reduce the amount of additional revenues required through application of $111,429,770 in funds raised by the State Lottery.

I won't go into an explanation of the specific distribution of those funds at this time, and I think there is sufficient public interest to make it the subject of a separate column.

The budget, as finally drafted, required $146 million in additional revenue. Rather than increase the sales tax, as some suggested, I elected to impose small increases on specific taxes, principally, gasoline and diesel fuel, corporation income tax, commercial vehicles and alcoholic beverages.

I felt these would be less burdensome to our citizens and that the categories taxed would still be in line with similar charges in neighboring states.

These changes enabled me to present a balanced budget to the Legislature. It is one which provides for all of our essential needs in educational transportation, our institutions, public safety and all the other services our citizens require and demand of State Government, and it provides the resources to pay for them.

This has been achieved with full regard for the citizen's legitimate concern for the cost of government, and further responsiveness to this concern in the administration of the budget will be our primary goal in the fiscal year ahead.

SUMMER PROGRAM BEGUN

In West Windsor, Last Thursday was opening day for the West Windsor-Plainsboro Summer Recreation Program. The start of the third year of the program brought a record number of children to the playground of the Maurice Hawk School.

A structured program for kindergarten, first and second grade children takes place there from 9:30 to 11:30 every week day. Also at the Hawk School is an informal program of sports, games and arts and crafts for third through eighth graders.

New this year is a playground program for younger children at the Van Nest Park in Grovers Mill. Mrs. Jackie McLaughlin has organized activities and stories at the municipal park.

Clubs centering around special interests are also in high gear. The Dutch Neck school is headquarters for a wide variety of activities including learning how to play the guitar, dramatics and play production, needlecraft and printmaking.

The Bicycle Club uses the school as a starting place for bike hikes. The Nature Club, led again this year by Mercer County Park Commission Naturalist Joe Schmeltz, is exploring the wilderness areas of Assunpink Park.

The shady playground of the Plainsboro School is again the scene of a program for kindergarten, first and second grade children. The program is staffed by Marilyn Murphy assisted by many volunteers. Children in third grade and up who live in Plainsboro can be involved in activities at the Hawk School.

The Summer Recretion Program is planned by a special committee of the West Windsor Recreation Committee chaired by Dotty Baer. Staff this year includes Jill Simpson, Mary Eng, Pat Burns, Carolyn Roessel, Carol Blackwell, Jody Kendall, Sharon O'Donnell, Paula DeRemer, Mindy Carpenter, John Bowker, Michael Godnick, Joan Needham, Nancy Johnson, Mary Snedeker and Ceceli Melo.

Registration for the playground program which runs through August 11 is still open. Information can be obtained by calling Mary Peck 452-2670 or Marion Kornstein 799-2543.

STUDENTS RETURN

From Scotland Visit. For the third year, a group of high school juniors has become part of the exchange program sponsored by the Princeton Branch of the English-Speaking Union in cooperation with the English-Speaking Union of Scotland.

Last month 47 students from schools in this area took off from Kennedy Airport to spend three weeks in Scotland as guests of the young Scots who had been their guests in this country between May 20 and June 12. They returned on July 10.

The purpose of this high school exchange program is to provide young people on both sides of the Atlantic an opportunity to live in each other's countries. The program does offer sightseeing and historical tours, in both countries, but its main purpose is the exchange of ways of living at home and at school.

Robert T. Mellinger has been in charge for the Princeton Branch of the English-Speaking Union for the last three years, assisted by Col. Roger Willock.

The members of the Parents Committee for this area include:

Mrs. William F. Merrigan, Hillsboro High School; Mrs. Robert P. Rich, Montgomery High School; Mrs. William T. Lifland, Princeton Day School; Mrs. Robert M. Englebrecht, Princeton High School; and

Mrs. James A. Page, Stuart Country Day School.

The counselors traveling with the students from this area are Mrs. David Parnes, 256 Russell Road, Princeton, and Frank Parker, the Hun School.

The students had a varied and interesting program during their stay, as well as attending school with their Scots friends, because schools in Scotland stay in session through July.

They had two days of sightseeing in London before going on to Edinburgh. The Lord Provost of Edinburgh met with the Americans on June 27, and the next day they toured Dumfermline and Andrew Carnegie's birthplace. Other trips included the Border country and Sir Walter Scott's home at Abbotsford, an outing to the island of Rothesay, and a visit to Stirling.

SENT TO GRAND JURY

For Armed Robbery. Greg Bullock, 22, 108 Leigh Avenue, who appeared in Borough court last week, has been referred to a Grand Jury for possible action by Borough Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Bullock has been charged with attempted armed robbery of a Florida resident and possession of a dangerous knife. The robbery complaint was signed by Acey Mobley Jr. of Pennsacola.

Jean Fees, 27, 448 Walnut Lane, charged with shoplifting at Clayton's and with possession of hashish, was senteneed to six months probation with the Mercer County Probation Office. A hashish possession charge against John H. Wells, 19, also of 448 Walnut Lane, was dismissed, as was a trespassing charge against Jerome McGowen, 25, 246 John Street.

Harold Humes, 46, 11 Madison Street, was held for Grand Jury action for contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He has been charged by Pfl. Ronald Holliday with purchasing alcohol for a minor.

MORE FUNDS NEEDED

To Aid Flood Victims. Princeton Red Cross Chapter has been deeply gratified by the generous donation of funds to help the tragic victims of the recent floods. Through contributions in collection boxes located all over the area by members of Red Cross Youth; through the numerous checks sent in the mail; and by means of special offerings in the area churches, about $3,000 has already been raised.

However, the emergency and the long-range needs are so overwhelming that the drive for funds must go on. By June 30, more than 250,000 persons in the Mid-Atlantic flood area had received emergency relief from the Red Cross; but with improved communications and as disaster workers reached some of the isolated flood areas in Pennsylvania and New York, the number of families affected increased sharply.

Additional Red Cross assistance centers are being opened in all flooded sections as quickly as possible. While a large proportion of the funds are still being used immediately to provide food, clothing and shelter to the homeless victims, at these centers families needing additional Red Cross assistance are now also getting all types of help.

Wherever possible, the American Red Cross is intensifying its individual family assistance program, aimed at enabling flood victims to live together again as family units as soon as possible. At these centers families are being helped with rent payments in temporary quarters, if their homes and apartments are unlivable.

They are receiving such needed items as beds and bedding, other essential furniture, kitchen utensils and tableware, clothing, and occupational supplies and equipment. They are being helped to replace such necessities for living as eye glasses, prescription drugs, dentures and other orthopedic appliances.

Throughout the nation the Red Cross is trying to raise a disaster emergency fund of $10 million. So far area-wide response has been very generous, but the flood disaster has been so overwhelming to so many thousands of people that Princeton Red Cross urges all those who have not yet given to do so as quickly as possible. Send your check to Princeton Red Cross Chapter, 182 North Harrison Street; or place your cash gift in one of the many boxes positioned in the area by Red Cross Youth.

FAA AWARDS CONTRACT

To Princeton University. A $125,000 Federal Aviation Administration contract has been awarded by the National Aviation Facilities Experimental Center, Atlantic City, to Princeton University to make a statistical analysis of radio communications used to control air traffic..

The analysis will enable FAA to design improved communications networks between airplanes and ground stations.

The center, test base of the FAA, has made communications recordings at 18 airport control towers and one air traffic center in the New York and Philadelphia areas for the analysis.

Using this data, the university's statistics and engineering department will develop mathematical formulas to show information such as communications workloads on air traffic controllers, radio cut-out interference between operator, and the amount of communications used to control aircraft.

The work at Princeton follows earlier studies made at the center by FAA project engineer Allen C. Busch showing how mathematical equations can represent communications networks. Professor Stewart Hunter will head the study at Princeton, scheduled to be completed in one year.

WINNERS ANNOUNCED

In Stuart Summer Show. Winners of the June Art Contest at Stuart Country Day School were announced this week by Robin Wallack, director of the Summer Art Program at the school.

In the 3-7th grade class, winners are Emily Reeves, Jurgen Jones and Katrina Jones, all of Princeton, and Pamela Guerds, Trenton.

In the 8-12th grade, winners are Claudie Christie, of Princeton, and Trenton residents Regina Belusar, Florence Zinman and Denise McCarthy. Nancy Podraza of Burlington, won a special prize for outstanding work.

Entries will be on display at Stuart from 9 a.m. until noon through this Friday. Each winning artist may select a one week course in either ceramics or graphics.

PEOPLE In The News

The dean's list at Rutgers College of Engineering includes Donald Latterman of rinceton and Jeffrey McClenahan of Princeton Junction. At Rutgers, where a "1" is the highest grade, students must receive an average of 1.8 or better to be named to the engineering honors list.

Three graduates of St. Paul's School who will be seniors at Notre Dame High School this fall have been named to the student council. James Root, son or Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Root, Aqueduct Road, will serve as council president; Brian Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith, Quakerbridge Road, will be vice-president, and William Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Long will serve as treasurer.

Navy Petty Officer 3C Donahl P. Kandrac is serving aboard the attack carrier USS Hancock, which had completed a visit to Hong Kong and is now back in the Gulf of Tonkin with the Seventh Fleet. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kandrac of 21 Titus Avenue, Lawrenceville.

Terry Gips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Gips Jr. of 92 Brookstone Drive, has been named to the spring semester honor list at Claremont Men's College, Claremont, Calif. He is a member of the junior class.

Two Princeton High School graduates began classes this week at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., as members of the Class of 1976: John A. Schumacher, 19, who was graduated from PHS in 1971, attended the Naval Academy Preparatory School, Bainbridge, Md., last year; and Christopher P. Grazel, 17, a June graduate of PHS who was a varsity foothall and baseball player. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schumacher of 1280 Old Trenton Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grazel of 140 Brookstone Drive.

Graduates from the service academies this June include David C. Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orvile D. Kirk of Princeton Junction, who has completed his undergraduate studies at West Point, and Robert C. Cook Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook of 2 Hamilton Avenue, a member of the Naval Academy's Class of 1972.

Hugh J. Devine, Jr.

Lorin Zissman, President of the Princeton Communications Group, has announced the appointment of Hugh J. Devine, Jr. of Princeton to Total Research, Inc., 1101 State Road, a wholly-owned subsidiary.

Mr. Devine shared responsibility for the management of the company for the last six months in his role as executive vice-president. Prior to joining TRI, Mr. Devine was Manager of Marketing Research and Development for the Winchester-Western Division of Olin Corporation.

A graduate of Bethany College, W. Va., Mr. Devine received his MBA in Marketing from the University of Bridgeport.

George T. Simmons, Manager of the Princeton branch office of Fox-Morris Associates, Personnel Consultants, has been selected as Commanding Officer of the Naval Reserve Surface Division 4-35 located in Philadelphia. Mr. Simmons is a Lieutenant Commander in the Naval Reserve and will be commanding 150 men in his new assignment. Surface Division 4-35 supplies direct back-up support to the operating forces of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet.

LCDR. Simmons is a 1959 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy and while on active duty served aboard destroyers, as an Admiral's Aide and in the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

Richard M. Sword, Rosedale Road, a 1972 graduate of The Hun School, has been accepted for enrollment at Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sword.

Vincent G. Dethier, Pretty Brook Road, Class of 1877 Professor of Zoology at Princeton University, has been elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, London, England's third oldest learned society.

Professor Dethier, one of the world's distinguished neurophysiologists, is widely known for his research into the chemical senses of insects and his contributions to sensory physiology have brought him a series of distinctions, including membership in both the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the National Academy of Sciences.

According to its 1754 charter, membership in the Royal Society of Arts is "open to persons of standing connected with, or having interest in, the encouragement of arts, manufactures and commerce."

Consequently, the 57-year-old scientist suspects that his writing, particularly his popularization of science in such volumes as "To Know a Fly" and "Fairweather Duck," a Literary Guild selection, and in short stories published in such journals as "Kenyon Review," "Texas Quarterly" and "Era" — rather than scientific research — led to his election to the 218-year-old Royal Society.

Harold B. Erdman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Erdman of 42 Cleveland Lane, received the B.A. degree in June from Lake Forest College. An alumnus of Taft School, he majored in psychology at Lake Forest and was a leading member of the hockey team.

Joseph S. Wandelt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Wandelt of 151 Mt. Lucas Road, received the B.A. degree in psychology from Lake forrest College. A graduate of Princeton Day School, he was a member of the Lacrosse Club.

Peter C. Olden of 326 Burd Street, Pennington, has been named to dean's list for the spring term at Miami University, Oxford, O.

William E. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.J. White, Province Line Road, and Charlotte D. Hudgin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hudgin, 33 Berkshire Drive, Princeton Junction, were among the 62 students who received 3 honors grades for the spring term at Lake Forest College.

Mr. White was one of 12 students selected for the student staff of a summer preschool enrichment program sponsored by the psychology department of the college and the Presbyterian Day Care Center of Lake Forest.

Miss Hudgin worked winter and spring terms for the Lake County (Ill.) Planning Commission. She did independent work on various projects such as a study of Green Acres in which she designed the program for interpreting the results of a survey made by the County Planning Commission on Green Acres. She will be one of 50 students this fall approved hy a faculty committee to participate in the Lake Forest College Scholar program.

Bill J. Chen of Faculty Road has graduated with distinction from Purdue University this June. He majored in chemical engineering.

Dr. Alvin J. Salkind, 37 Dempsey Avenue, has been elected vice president of technology of ESB, Inc., the nation's largest battery company.

Dr. Salkind was previously ESB's director of technology, a post he has held since September 1971. Noted for his work in electrochemistry, particularly relating to electromedical devices, Dr. Salkind is one of a few fellows of the American College of Cardiology who are not doctors of medicine.

A graduate of the chemical engineering doctoral program of The Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, class of 1958, Dr. Salkind retains his relationship with the university as an adjunct professor of chemical engineering. He is also a professor of bioengineering at Rutgers Medical School.

A 30-year-old Princeton University philosopher has been singled out as the first recipient of the Matchette Prize in Philosophy, a newly-funded national award for the best book by a scholar in philosophy under 40 years of age.

Recipient of the $1,000 prize in what will become a biennial competition is Dr. David Lewis, Associate Professor of Philosophy.

His book, "Convention: A Philosophical Study" (Harvard University Press, 1969) was selected over more than 30 other recent books (or series of related papers) submitted in the nationwide competition. A committee of five prominent philosophers picked the prize recipient.

The award, funded by the Franklin J. Matchette Foundation, is given for work of "outstanding philosophic merit," normally to an author of a book or series of related papers, with preference to scholars under age 40. The award is presented in cooperation with the American Philosophical Association.

Prof. Lewis, a 1962 Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Swarthmore College who went on to earn his M.A. and Ph.D. at Harvard University, said the volume, which presents an analysis of social convention, is largely based on his Harvard Ph.D. dissertation.

Second Lieut. Morris Maple IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Maple III, 2 Hornor Lane, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force orientation course for Medical Service Corps officers.

Lieutenant Maple was trained in the management of medical support activities which prepared him for administrative positions in USAF treatment facilities. He is being assigned to Kelly AFB, Texas.

A 1965 graduate of Bordentown (N.J.) Military Institute, he received his B.A. degree in business administration in 1969 from Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, and was commissioned there through the Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He also holds an M.H.A. degree from George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

THREE HERE QUALIFY
For Nationals in Tenuis.

Three Princeton players fared well enough in the exceptionally strong field of players entered in the Middle States junior tennis tournament to qualify for the nationals to be held later this summer.

Some 325 players in all participated in the event last week, which overcame the obstacle posed by last Wednesday's steady rain. Matches, scheduled to be played on the University's outside courts, were played instead in Dillon and Jadwin Gyms, the Mercer County indoor courts and on the Princeton Racquet Club's indoor courts in Kingston.

Jay Lapidus was a finalist in both the 14 singles and doubles, and Michael Glouhevitch and Bill Schmidt reached the finals of the 18 doubles. Bill and Michel also won the Sportsmanship Trophy awarded by the Tournament Co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lapidus.

The surprise of the tournament, however, was a traveling group of six junior tennis players from Israel. Hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stix and Mrs. and Mrs. Hugh Sampson, these six young players, who delighted everyone with their high spirits, good sportsmanship as well as skilled stroking ability, upset seeded player after seeded player.

One of the Israelis, Danny Goldberg, won the 14 singles upsetting both number one seed, Murray Robinson, in the semi-finals 6-3, 6-7, 6-4 and then number three seed, Princeton's Jay Lapidus, in the finals, 6-2, 6-1.

Goldberg then teamed with his countrymen, Shay Puni, to add the 14 doubles title as a souvenir of his American sojourn. The Israeli team upset the number one seeded pair of Murray Robinson and Jay Lapidus, 2-6, 7-5, 7-5.

Bill Schmidt and Michel Glouchevitch had to oust another tough Israeli team in the 18 doubles semis in order to reach the finals against an experienced, polished Wilmington duo, Jeff Olmstead and John Irwin, who won 6-2, 6-3.

Dan Thompson was another Princeton standout in the tourney, reached the semi-finals of the 18 singles where he was ousted by Olmstead, 6-4, 6-2. But enroute to the semis, Dan upset third seed Paul Waitz of Philadelphia in the third round, 6-1, 5-7, 7-6, and fifth seed Irwin Waltz in the quarters, 7-5, 6-2.

Other Princeton players who had good individual wins in the tournament were Bill Schmidt, who upset sixth seed Dave Welsh in the third round, 6-4, 6-3; and the doubles team of Danny Aronovic and Danny Schulman, who reached the quarter finals of the 14 doubles before being defeated by the seeded pair of Nathan Levine of State College and Junior Gray of Philadelphia, 6-7, 6-3, 6-1.

TWO DO WELL
In Philadelphia Tennis.

While Princeton's male junior tennis players competed here, the girls traveled to Philadelphia to the Middle States Girls Championships.

Two fared exceptionally well. Libby Hicks reached the finals of the 14 singles before being defeated by Wendy Levy. In the Philadelphia District Championships the week before, Libby teamed up with Wendy to win the 14 doubles.

Vicki Austin reached the semi-finals of the Middle States Championships 18 singles where she was defeated by Patty Drake of Pittsburgh, 3-6, 6-4, 5-7. This qualifies both girls to go to the Nationals this year.

Meanwhile, in another tournament at the Philadelphia District Boys Championship at Idle Hour, two Princeton boys put on a good performance. Buff Burchfield reached the quarter finals and Jay Lapidus reached the finals where he was defeated by Murray Robinson. Enroute to the finals, Jay upset the fifth and third seeded players. Both boys were unseeded in this tournament.

This week, the Princeton Junior Tennis Championships for boys and girls 12 and 14 will be held Monday, July 17 to July 21. This is an event for area players sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Office. Entry blanks may be obtained from the instructors and the Recreation Office Entries will close Friday.

OPENING MEET WON

By Nassau Swim Club. By a score of 179 to 120, the Nassau Swim Slub defeated the Cranbury Swim Club last week to win its first meet of the season. Coached by Bruce Nystrom, Nassau finished third overall last year among the 12 teams comprising the Princeton Area Swimming and Diving Association.

Doubles winners against Cranbury and a member of a winning relay team in addition were Tim Rahr, 8 and under, and Tom Bolster, 12 and under. Double winners were Mary Bolster, 12 and under, Carrie Bolster, 17 and under and Pierre Coutin, 14 and under.

Other winers were Geoff Westoff, Carrie Kidd, Abby Wilson, Jay Kelly, Lise Kauzmann, Margaret Martin, Eric Kauzmann and Beth Alterts. The victors also win five relay races.

WINS COME HARD

As Post 76 Struggles. First the good news. Post 76 shaded Hightstown Post 148 last week, 4-3, for its first American Legion Post victory since June 20.

Now the bad: it lost its next three starts to Trenton Post 93, Lawrence Post 414 and North Trenton Post 458. Present Post record is 3-10.

Upcoming games this week at home include a Sunday contest at Clarke Field with Hopewell Post 339 and against Bordentown Post 26 this Wednesday afternoon.

Away games are Thursday at Broad Street Park Post 313, Saturday at Lawrence Post 414 and Monday at Ewing Post 314.

Against Hightstown, Post 76 received singles from Bob Zinsmeister, John Mooney, Lance Marshall and Ren Scott in the fourth inning to take a 2-1 lead. After Hightstown had tied the game in the seventh to send it into extra innings and had gone ahead, 3-2, in the top of the eighth, Post 76 came back to tie it again on Zinsmeister's leadoff single, Mooney's bunt and a pair of walks.

In the bottom of the ninth, Post 76 loaded the bases on a single by Gary Drake, one of the leading hitters in the league, and walks to Mooney and George Reynolds. The winning run came in when the pitcher failed to field Ray Richards' comebacker cleanly.

Starter Lane Marshall allowed no hits through the first five inniags. Richards, however, came in with the score tied in the eighth to get credit for the win.

Baiu 4 for 4. Against Trenton Post 93, Kent Bain provided some badly needed hitting, driving in one run with four hits in four at bats, including a triple while scoring two more, but it wasn't enough.

Mooney was touched for five runs and Richards gave up a two-run homer to make it a 7-5 final.

In the first game of a double header Sunday against Lawrence Post 414, Richards gave up three runs in the first. It was to prove costly as Don Crosby came on to retire the next 15 batters in a row.

Post 76 got two back in the first when Scott, leading off, got hit by a pitched ball, advanced on a walk and scored on George Boccanfuso's single. Chris Crane followed with another single but Mike Carlucci, who had walked, was out at the plate. After Drake walked to jam them again, Lawrenceville walked in the second run.

Trenton also picked on Post 76 in the first inning, scoring three times. It added single runs in the fourth and sixth innings to offset single runs by Post 76 in the first, second and sixth. Marshall was tagged with the loss.

Baseball Clinic Starts

A special softball and baseball clinic will be held each Tuesday and Thursday from 10 to 12 noon for seven to nine year olds at the Grover Park playground.

The program, which starts Tuesday and will run through August 3, will teach baseball fundamentals to those who attend the Princeton playgrounds.

FRESHMEN ELIGIBLE

For Rutgers Varsity Basketball. Effective in September, freshmen will be allowed to play varsity basketball at Rutgers, but the Scarlet will continue to field freshman teams in football.

This decision, announced last week by Albert W. Twitchell, director of athletics, follows recent liberalized eligibility pronouncements of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and Eastern College Athletic Conference, authorizing freshmen to compete on these varsity teams. Freshmen previously had been made eligible for other sports.

Twitchell said that the University's decision is based upon recommendations of the coaches and a survey of other eastern colleges.

Entering his 13th season as Rutgers football coach, John Gateman said that he has asked for a continuation of Rutgers policy of playing freshman football games. He hopes, also, to have a limited junior varsity schedule.

"We may re-examine freshman eligibility in the future, but right now we plan to conduct our varsity program with only sophomores, juniors and seniors," Bateman said.

In basketball, Coach Dick Loyd will divide his squad into varsity and sub-varsity units, the varsity to play 24 games, the jayvees approximately 15. Lloyd will have the freedom to adjust his rosters. Each player, however, can participate in no more than 26 games.

LACROSSE CLINIC SET

At Hun School. The new Princeton Lacrosse clinic will hold a one-week session beginning August 7 at the Hun School, according to Peter Savidge, Hun lacrosse coach and director of the clinic.

All-day sessions will be held for advanced as well as beginning players under the tutelage of Savidge, who was a three-time All American in lacrosse at Rutgers.

YWCA PLANS TEAM

For Girls Basketball. A basketball team sponsored by the YWCA Soul Sisters Club is being formed. Girls interested in joining should come to the first organizational practice Saturday at 5 in the afternoon at the YWCA.

The team will be meeting early in the evening in the new Athletic Center and the girls will be coached by Denise Craig. They will play against other girls' teams from the surrounding areas. There are no age restrictions; if enough interest is shown, teams of different age groups may be formed.

For further information call the YWCA, 924-4825 and ask for the Athletic Director.

Several classes at the YWCA will be given between this Monday and August 4, some still have openings, notably girls' gymnastics for ages 6 through 12, and the women's gymnastics evening class.

Swimming for girls at all levels and both day and evening swim classes for women are available. Some openings are left in the popular Mother-Toddler swim class, for boys

Princeton Man Pursuing Elusive Goal in Power Boat Racing

You won't find Bruce MacDiarmid, owner of Princeton's Nassau Liquors, standing behind the counter next Wednesday afternoon.

Instead, the personable, 30-year-old MacDiarmid, who has doubled the size of Nassau Liquors since he took over in November, 1970, will be standing in the cockpit of his 28-foot, fibre glass outboard power boat, trying for another leg on his goal of winning the national outboard championship.

In a sport that is noted for the relatively brief span of years one can stand up to the physical punishment, MacDiarmid has been racing for three years. "I want to win that championship," he says.

Wednesday, off Pt. Pleasant Beach, MacDiarmid will be one of about 40 competing in the Hennessey Grand Prix, a 180-mile race around a triangular course and one of 12 that determines the national championship. This is the third year for the Hennessey and MacDiarmid has been in all three.

It is the only one of the 12 to be held in this area. Two are run off California and the rest in the Key West-Bahamas region. Four races remain after the Hennessey, and MacDiarmid, who did not compete in California, plans to enter all four.

IN NATIONAL SPEEDBOAT RACE: Bruce MacDiarmid owner of Nassau Liquors, will compete in the Hennessey Grand Prix Race Wednesday, July 19 off Point Pleasant Beach. Bruce, in second place in the outboard division, is trying to win the national championship.

Currently, he is in second place in the national standings in the outboard division, trailing by 400 points. He reports that he could make up all 400 with a victory in the Hennessey.

Biggest in Country. Incidentally, the Hennessey Gran Prix, he reports, has become the biggest race of its type in the country in its three years. While it can be seen from the shore, its drama is best appreciated from a boat.

"There were several thousand boats out last year—and on a Wednesday!" MacDiarmid commented. "Can you imagine what it would be like on a weekend."

His $25,000 Memco, built by a firm in Jacksonville, Fla. has a custom hull and four special Mercury factory engines rated at 150 h.p. each. The engines alone cost $12,000. His second boat, he has had it a year and a half. "It's one of a kind," he said.

Last year in a race off Bimini, MacDiarmid lost three engines and sustained a two-foot hole in the hull when his boat struck a sea turtle. "That's the only sea turtle in the ocean with three stainless steel propellers in his back," he remarked.

Getting all four engines to perform in unison is al constant challenge. MacDiarmid reports that it is rare indeed when he finishes a race with all four running.

The physical battering is punishing. His boat, he says, will reach speeds of 73 to 74 miles an hour. The big inboards will hit 90.

Hitting waves at that speed is akin to being slammed repeatedly against a wall. The typical seas this year have had four to six-foot waves. "There have been some rough races," MacDiarmid admitted. If the waves are considered too high, a race is postponed. MacDiarmid recalled seeing a boat hit a wave at the wrong angle and knife straight to the bottom. The two drivers floated free but they never found the boat, he said.

To help cushion the constant pounding, MacDiarmid stands on a three-inch layer of high-density foam rubber. "You can't sit, you have to stand," he said. For protection he wears a helmet and life preserver. Some guys wear combat boots, he said.

"The boat and motor will hold together longer than you will," MacDiarmid commented. It's been estimated, he said, that power boats coming down from a high wave hit the water with a force of nine Gs. In contrast, he said that astronauts experience only three to four Gs on re-entry.

Some day...: How did it start? I went to the University of Miami and it was a typical situation, he recalled. "I used to sit on the rocks and watch and I vowed that some day I'd own a boat like that. It took me 10 years to do it."

But he admits he can not keep it up which is why he is going all out to win this year. "There's an average of one race a month; every month I'm away at least a week. I can't keep it up."

And there have been disappointments. The one still most vivid took place in the Bahama 500, his most recent race. At the start, he said that his navigator, Michael Mathison of Key Biscayne, had reached back to cut the fuel lines free when a wave from the starter's boat rocked them and he cut a fuel line instead.

Working feverishly, the two managed to splice in a repair line, but it cost them an hour and fifteen minutes. At that, they made up all but 17 to finish second. The 17 minutes—the difference between first and second—cost them thousands in orize money, however.

"I thought Mike was going to cry. It really hurt," MacDiarmid agreed.

During a race.. Mike is Bruce's eyes to watch for marker boats and other dangers. "When you're going 60 miles an hour over four-foot waves, it's all I can do to hold on to the wheel and steer," MacDiarmid stated.

Perhaps it is this challenge that explains the attraction. "It's one of those things you have to do before you can experience it," he said. (His wife tried it once and vowed never to step foot in the boat again.) "You can talk about it all day but you can never realize what it's actually like until you do it."

SUMMER LACROSSE TRIO: Jim Kopliner (left), Dennis O'brien (center) and Craig Singer, all Princeton residents, are participating in the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League at Marquand Park. Koplinger, who played his lacrosse at Hun School, ,is attending Missouri Valley College where the sport is not played. O'Brien and Singer were both standouts on the Princeton High School team. Singer is presently attending Mercer County Community College; O'Brien has transferred from Forleigh Dickinson to Earlham College in Richmond, Ind., where he also laments there is no lacrosse. Yoga classes are held twice a week, on Tuesday and Thursday, from 8:15 to 9:45 in the evening. The class is open to women and men and is given between July 18 and August 3.

The first session of women's tennis was booked full the first day registration started. However a few openings are left in the second session of tennis. Registration for any of these classes is possible until Friday at the YWCA. For information, call the YWCA, ext 36.

RED, NAVY WIN

In Summer Lacrosse. Red edged Blue, 4-3, and Navy walloped Green, 13-3, in games last week in the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League at Marquand Park.

Red, which led, 3-1, after three periods, received two goals from John Cawley and one each from Steve Zamek and Bob Cooper. Jim Koplin-er had two of Blue's three goals, while Paul Frazier added the other.

Navy, which tied Red for the league lead with a 2-1 record, scored with abandon, jumping to an 8-1 lead at the half. Mark Tullis led the rout with four goals. Others: Pete Finnerty 3, Mike Skinner and Hugh Fitzpatrick 2 each, and John Green and Bob Margolis 1 each. Phil Stone, Paul Winnergreen and Phil Nollner scored for Green.

Thursday evening, Red and Navy will clash and Blue plays Green.

O'HARA DOUBLE WINNER

In AAU Swim Meet. Twelve year old Beaver O'Hara of Princeton last week won the 100-meter free-style and the 20-meter individual medley in the first of a series of New Jersey AAU age-group championships held at the Driftwood Swim Club in Rumson. His time for the 100 was 1:05, for the medley, 2:44.9.

As a result, O'Hara, will compete in the regional championships Saturday, July 22 at Clifton Knowles, N.Y. Winners at this meet will advance to the national junior olympic championships to be held in August in Spokane, Wash.

By placing third in the 100 breaststroke for girls, 13-14, Janet Shivers will also make the trip to Clifton Knowles. Her time was 1:33.

Other Princeton swimmers who placed at the Driftwood meet were Ellen Wawczak and Guy Dorgan. They finished fifth in the 100 freestyle and 200 individual medley respectively. Carol McGrath had a sixth in the same race.

Boys who placed sixth were Mike Wawczak, Panco Stackpole and Greg Lauffer. Others from Princeton competing at Driftwood were Valerie Hiel, Bill Stevenson, Mike McKenna, Mary Bolster and Rick Gavenda.

Hiel Breaks Record. This month at a meet held at the Garden State Swim Club in Berkeley Heights, ten-year-old Bobby Hiel set a new state record in the 100-meter free-style for boys 10 and under. His time of 1:12 bettered a record that had stood since 1966.

Hiel also won the 50-meter freestyle at a meet in Westwood, to place him at the top of all free style swimmers in the state in his age group. He works out twice daily with the Princeton Swim Team at Community Park Pool under Bill Farley and Jeff Lowe.

Drew Stevenson, another Community Park swimmer, placed second in the 100 free-style. In the 200-meter breaststroke at Westwood, Chuck Hector came in second, Pete Manieri fourth, and Andy Bolster, sixth. At Garden State in the 100-meter breaststroke, Manieri again placed fourth and Bolster fifth. They compete in the 15-17 age division.

The Westwood and Berkeley Heights meets were qualifying events for the Junior Olympics to be held in August. So far, 10 Princeton swimmers have qualified, either among the six fastest or as alternates.

Other Community Park swimmers who have qualified are Martha Kinney and Mike Reock, both freestyles. Martha placed fourth in the 200 meter for girls 13-14; Mike placed fourth in the 50 for boys 15-17.

Alternates are John Cummins, Tod Howarth and Carol McGrath.

WINNERS NAMED

In Bedens Brook Tourney. Winners of last week's tennis round robin at the Bedens Brook Club were Peter Lawson-Johnston and David Blaxill.

Runners-up in the weekly event were Paul Corban and Susan Tassie.

COURTS CLOSED

For Children's Tennis. West Windsor Township tennis courts will be closed to Township residents from 9 to 5 on Tuesdays and Thursday and from 2 to 5 on Mondays and Wednesdays to accommodate the annual children's tennis program.

LUNCHEON PLANNED

By Red Cross. A luncheon for senior citizens will be held by Red Cross in the tradition of those held during the spring at John Witherspoon School.

The luncheon will be in the form of a picnic at the Red Cross Chapter House at 182 North Harrison Street on Wednesday, July 19 at 12:30 p.m. (rain date July 20).

Members of Red Cross Youth have planned a meal of roast beef, salads, and fruit, which will be prepared and served by them. Cost of the lunch is $1.

All those wishing to attend should call Red Cross 924-2404 to register before Friday. Transportation can be arranged for those who need it.

JUNIOR QUALIFIES

For Olympic Swim Trials. Kathy Corcione, of Princeton and Long Branch, swam one race closer to the Olympic Games when she qualified for the Olympic trials at the Eastern U.S. Swimming Championships last week at Lancaster, Penna. Miss Corcione took 2nd place in the 100 meter freestyle, with a time of 1:01.7, a touch-out behind Jane Barkman of Philadelphia. Both swimmers were members of the 1968 United States Olympic Team, and both had retired for three years after Mexico City.

Miss Corcione, who is a junior at Princeton University, came out of her retirement last fall, and swam during the winter season with the Princeton women's varsity team. She also placed in the finals of two other events, taking 3rd place in the 200 meter freestyle, and 6th in the 400 meter freestyle.

Nine other Princeton swimmers, members of the Princeton Community group that works out twice daily in the Community Park pool, qualified for the Eastern Championships.

Mal Howard, another member of the Princeton University varsity team, placed in the finals of three events: the 1500 meter freestyle for 8th place; and for 5th place in both individual medleys, the 200 and the 400.

Three other Princeton swimmers made the consolation finals in a total of 5 events. Kent Duffy took a 4th in the 200 butterfly, and two 8ths in the 100 free and the 200 individual medley. Chuck Hector tied for 7th in the consolation finals of the 200 meter breaststroke, while Peter Manieri took a 5th in the 200 meter breaststroke.

Other Princeton swimmers who competed at Lancaster were Lance Duffy and Kathy Duffy, Mike Reock, Andy Bolster and Maura Dorgan.

ROMA STILL PERFECT

In Little League Play. Roma Eterna with two more victories continues to lead the Little League division of the Princeton Youth Baseball Association with a 8-0 record, as recent games indicate that pitching and fielding has caught up with the hitting.

In the league's most recent outing, Eagles handed Italian American Sportsmen Club its third setback of the week when it won, 10-5. The Eagles were led by John Silverman's grand slam.

Thursday there were four games: Roma blanked Elks, 8-0; Hook & Ladder, runner-up to Roma, stopped IASC, 5-2; Engine No. 1 defeated Engine No. 3, 7-3, and Post 76 edged Eagles, 5-4.

Roma had an easy time of it as John Boccanfuso tossed a two-hitter, giving up single to Tony Opperman and Evan Press. Seth Sanders doubled and six other batters hit safely to produce eight runs for Roma.

Charles Waaben pitched his first complete game, a nifty two-hitter, in Hook & Ladder's come from behind win over IASC. The Sportsmen led 2-0 until the fourth, Bruno Perna accounting for both with a homer and single. But H&L came back with a hitting attack that featured three runs batted in by John Ferguson and one each by Jon Miller and Joe Lapsley. David Sally took the loss.

The pitching of Morgan Mohrmann (12 strikeouts) and the batting of Brent Robinson, Robert Mangone, and Mike Nosal (two hits each) powered Engine No. 1 to its win. Eric Swartzentruber kept Engine No. 3 in the game with two hits.

Tied 4-4 going into the sixth, Post 76 won it for pitcher Bobby Cronin when it squeezed home the winning run on a bunt. Slugging leaders for Post 76 were Scott Trani, Woody Clark and Doug Ferguson with two hits apiece. The Eagles were led at the plate by John Silverman and Jim McCarthy.

Earlier, Roma scored two runs in the fifth and sixth innings to nip the Sportsmen, 5-3; H&L shut out Post 76, 9-0; Engine No. 1 defeated Eagles, 8-2; and Elks came up with five runs in the fifth to edge Engine No. 3, 10-9.

Winning pitcher for Roma was Boccanfuso again, whose triple tied the game. Sally of the Sportsmen held a 3-1 lead but couldn't hold it to take the loss.

The expected close battle between H&L and Post 76 failed to materialize when H&L scored six runs on five hits in the first inning. Waaben and Rober Rosner combined on the mound to share the shutout. Scott Trani had two of the losers' three hits, while Louis Davis and Tommy Ferguson each batted 3-for-3 for the victors.

Bob Willis fanned 11 and gave up just three hits in that Engine No. 1 upset of Eagles. Dave Miller had four hits in four trips to the plate for the Firemen.

Elks outslugged Engine No. 3, getting a home run from Kieran Esposito, triple from Tony Opperman and a pair of doubles from David Wilson. No. 3's big hit was a triple by Swartzentruber.

The standings:

RECORD HIGHS REPORTED

By Princeton Savings. Record highs in all areas of operation for the first six months of 1972 were reported by William H. Boozer, Jr., president of the Princeton Savings and Loa Association.

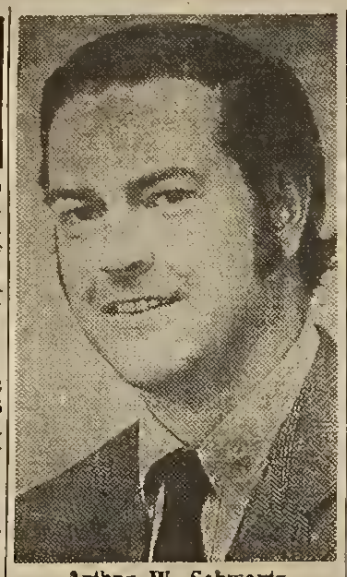
The June 30, 1972 Statement of Condition showed assets reaching a total of $35,735,366 for a 32 percent gain over last year. The extent of our growth in assets," said Mr. Boozer, "is best indicated in the fact that they are approximately double the total of June 30, 1969, just three years ago."

Member savings increased $4,732,863 since December 31, 1971 bringing total savings to $32,411,807. Mr. Boozer noted that, "although the surge in total savings is showing signs of slowing to more realistic levels on a national basis, we are obviously continuing to ben edit froo the opening of our new facilities on Nassau Street and our offering of top rate savings accounts and certificates. At this pace we'll exceed the 1971 record growth in deposits which was $6,131,866 for the year."

During the first six months of 1972 Princeton Savings granted more than $4 million in mortgage loans. The total mortgage portfolio as of June 30 1972 amounted to $32,089,906 up 35 percent over a year ago.

SCHWARTZ IS NAMED

Partner in Architectural Firm. Philetus H. Holt, III and A. Perry Morgan, Jr. have announced the incorporation with Arthur W. Schwartz of a new architectural firm to be known as Holt-Morgan-Schwartz, Architects, with offices at 10 Nassau Street.



Arthur W. Schwartz

Mr. Holt and Mr. Morgan have had a partnership since 1965 with which Mr. Schwartz has been associated.

A 1963 graduate of Princeton University, Mr. Schwartz also received a master of fine arts degree in architecture there in 1965, and was awarded a Butler Traveling Fellowship in 1964.

He was associated with the Princeton firm of Collins, Uhl, Hoisington and Anderson, before joining his present firm. A resident of 1 West Franklin Avenue, Pennington, Mr. Schwartz is a member of the town's Planning Board.

The new firm emphasizes institutional and residential work in its practice and is expanding into the areas of planned residential development and other achitectural planning.

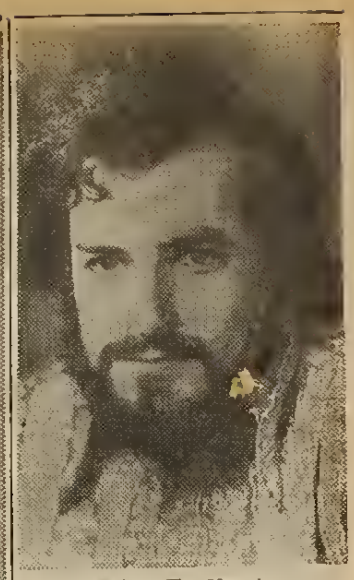
2 AWARDED FELLOWSHIPS

By RCA Laboratories. Two RCA Laboratories scientists have been awarded David Sarnoff Fellowships for graduate study in the 1972-73 academic year.

The David Sarnoff Fellowships, established in 1956 to commemorate the late General Sarnoff's fifty years in radio, television, and electronics, are awarded annually to outstanding employees of RCA.

One of the Fellows, Peter E. Norris, 348 Mt. Lucas Road, will begin work toward a Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering at MIT this Fall. Also seeking a Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering Robert H. Dawson will start his second year as a Sarnoff Fellow at Cornell University.

An RCA Laboratories employee since 1968, Mr. Norris works in the Process and Applied Materials Research Laboratory. He received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from MIT in 1965 and 1967, respectively. He has also done graduate work at the University of Colorado.



Peter E. Norris

An employee of the Solid State Technology Center, Mr. Dawson has worked for RCA since 1963. He received his Bachelor's degree in 1963 from Rutgers University and his Master's degree in 1966 from Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn. He lives in New Brunswick.

CONTRACT AWARDED

To Mathematica. Mathematica, Inc., a Princeton-based research and consulting firm, has been awarded a $900,000 subcontract from the RAND Corporation for the first year of a five-year health insurance experiment. The work will be conducted by the company's Urban Opinion Survey Division (UOS).

The experiment, supported by funds from the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity, will provide policy-makers with information on the effects of various health insurance plans on the utilization of medical services.

Approximately 2,000 low and middle income families in several locations will be enrolled in the insurance plans and

News Of The CHURCHES

MEISEL ACCEPTS CALL

To Minneapolis Church. The Rev. Dr. Donald Mr. Meisel, minister of First Presbyterian Church since 1960, will become pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Minneapolis, Minn. on October 1.

His resignation was given to the session of First Church on Monday evening.

Dr. Meisel, a native of St. Paul, Minn., will be heading a downtown Minneapolis church of 3,331 members drawn from the seven-county metropolitan area.

Westminister owns and operates Abbott Hospital and the Loring-Nicollet Center, a community service program in which five congregations participate; a day center for retarded children and has special ministries to the Chinese and other racial, social, economic and health fields.

During his tenure as minister of First Presbyterian Church, it has grown from 1,418 to 1,872 members and has assumed frequent leadership in the areas of youth, housing and allied socio-economic problems. It is among the dozen largest United Presbyterian churches in the state.

Dr. Meisel was moderator of the Synod of New Jersey in 1970-71, after filling a similar office in the New Brunswick Presbytery in 1969. He was one of the chief organizers of the Princeton Interfaith Council, a past president of the Princeton Pastor's Association and, from its inception, chaired the Princeton Hospital Chaplaincy Committee which worked to create a full-time chaplaincy at Princeton Hospital.

He is a director of the Princeton YMCA, and has served two terms as trustee of Bloomfield College and of Blair Academy. He is currently a member of the Mayor's Committee on the Future of the Center of Princeton.

Dr. Meisel, who was graduated cum laude from Macalaster College in St. Paul, attended Princeton University in the Navy V-12 program and has a bachelor of divinity degree from Princeton Theological Seminary.

He received the doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Edinburg, Scotland, and also studied at the University of Basle, Switzerland. Macalester College awarded him the honorary degree of doctor of divinity in 1968, and chose him as its most distinguished alumnus last year.

He is married to the former Eleanor Williams. They have four children: Donald Jr., Nancy, Wayne and Timothy.

The congregation of First Presbyterian church will be asked to concur with his resignation at a special meeting on September 10. Formal action by the New Brunswick Presbytery is expected September 12.

TO MARK ANNIVERSARY

Of Rev. Guidry. There will be a Pastor's Anniversary program at 4 p.m. this Sunday at the Morning Star Church of God in Christ, 43 and one-half Birch Avenue, honoring the Rev. C. Guidry.

Bishop Esau Courtenay of Holy Trinity Church of God in Christ, Trenton, and his choir will be special guests. The choirs of both churches will sing and the public is invited to attend.

TO HEAR ELLSBERG TAPE

At Friends' Meeting. A tape recording of Daniel Ellsberg's talk to Philadelphia area Quakers will be played this Sunday at 11 at Princeton Friends Meeting. Meeting for worship is held at 10.

Dr. Ellsberg describes his awakening to the meaning of the Vietnam war; he interprets the main issues of the Pentagon Papers, and examines statements and motives of recent Presidents as they continued United States' military intervention in Indochina.

Participants from all congregations will be welcomed. People are encouraged to bring sandwiches, as there will be an informal discussion after the tape. Child care is provided.

CAMP CHOIR TO SING

At Trinity. A 45-voice choir from the Columbus Boychoir Summer Choir Camp will sing at 10 this Sunday in Trinity Episcopal Church.

Donald Hansen, director of the Columbus Boychoir, and Robert Hobbs, assistant director, will conduct. The choir, made up of boys from the camp and men from the camp staff, will be heard in works by Stanford, Harris, Travers and Darke.

Rev. James R. Whittemore, rector of Trinity, will celebrate the encharist. James Litton is organist.

NEW POST ACCEPTED

By Rev. Warneck. he Rev. Walter J. Warneck Jr. has accepted a call to Immanuel Lutheran Church, Danbury, Conn., as assistant pastor, and was scheduled to be installed on Wednesday.

He has served as the called pastoral assistant at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah. In addition to his work at Messiah, he earned a master of theology degree from Princeton Theological Seminary this past winter. He assisted in the work of Trinity Counseling Service and for this received credit for the Advanced Pastoral Counseling Practicum of Princeton Seminary.

DR. SWEAZEY TO PREACH

In Princeton Cemetery. Outdoor services are being held by Princeton Presbyterians at 8:30 a.m. on Sundays in July in Princeton Cemetery. The Rev. Dr. George E. Sweazey, Patton Professor of Homiletics at Princeton Seminary, is preacher.

Services are held in the open area opposite the Grover Cleveland marker and within sight of the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church. Parking is available at the Playhouse and Public Library lots, and the cemetery may be entered from Greenview Avenue or Witherspoon Street.

A tour of the historic cemetery follows the service. In the event of rain, services are held in Witherspoon Street Church.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Presbyterians' summer union service will be held at 10 on Sunday in First Church. Rev. Dr. George E. Sweazey is preacher.

Ethel Mae Theriault, a member of the faculty of the Woodrow Wilson School in Trenton, is the leader of this Sunday's informal service at 9:30 a.m. in the small auditorium of the Unitarian Church. The program topic is "Educational Serendipity."

Professor Robert B. Y. Scott of Princeton University's department of religion will conduct the 10 a.m. service in Princeton University Chapel this Sunday.

Southern fried chicken and barbecued spare ribs are on the menu this Saturday at Morning Star Church of God in Christ, 43 and one-half Birch Avenue. Donation is $2. Take-out orders may be placed by calling 924-5478.

Would you like to have a place for your horse, or if you don't have one, are you contemplating having a horse? How about your own greenhouse, or stocked pond for fishing and swimming. Maybe you would just like to have 6 plus acres and a home. All of this within 5 minutes of the Station in Princeton Junction and 8 minutes to Princeton. Priced at $46,000, $55,000 and $70,000, each with 6 plus acres and home with various outbuildings. These are contiguous parcels, maybe you would like to buy the "whole thing." The above picture is of the $70,000 parcel containing the house, garage with loft, barn and greenhouse. If you like flowers, flowering trees and bushes, this is the one for you.

Princeton Junction — A very nice split level, walking distance to the station. Upper level has 3 bedrooms and bath. Main level contains a large living room dining area combination and kitchen. A few steps down from the living room is the den or family room. This lower level also has a partial basement and 1 car attached garage. Very good condition. $36,000

We also have a nice bungalow in Allentown, N.J. Living room, dining room, eat-in kitchen, den or bedroom and ½ bath on the first floor. 2 large bedrooms and full bath on the second. Full high basement. Nice condition. $27,900

How would you like a brand new home in time for school? A big 5 bedroom 2½ bath Colonial. Entry foyer, living room, dining room, eat-in kitchen, panelled family room with fireplace, utility room and powder room on the first floor. 5 bedrooms and 2 baths on the second. 2 zone heat and central air conditioning. Aluminum siding. Big full basement with separate "cold" cellar, also, an outside entry. 2 car, large garage. Front and rear porch. House fully insulated. At this time you can have your choice of paint colors, tile, light fixtures and kitchen cabinets. All of this in West Windsor Twp. for convenient commuting. $57,900

How about a lot in Princeton Junction at $3500? Give us a call and we can discuss this one.

20 acres of light industrial property at the intersection of Rt. 130 and N. Main St. in Windsor. Over 700' frontage, also rail facilities. $8,000 an acre

West Windsor Twp. Lt. Ind. Research and Co. office building zone. 3 contiguous 5 plus acre parcels, very desirable location. $40,000, $41,000 and $47,000, or buy all 3 for $120,000.

A not too large garden and a beautifully designed and detailed house—close by a golf course in a quiet area awails a oew and appreciative owner —center hall—living room—kitchen with self cleaning stove—large playroom and three-to-five bedrooms as you wish. $105.000

Sometimes you can just tell that a particular area has "what it takes." One of the best spots in Princeton has one of the most exceptional houses —very large entrance hall, living room, and dining room, a cozy study, huge totally modern kitchen, four bedrooms upstairs with three baths—and a complete "apartment" or party-guest area with casual living room, three other game or bedrooms and 1½ baths. $168,500

"An enchanted wood" and rolling lawns surround a secluded one floor semi-contemporary house in the Western Section— spacious, well windowed living and dining rooms, sunny kitchen, three bedrooms and two baths—a marvelous deck and two car garage low $70's.

A farm, estate or "private village" take your choice from working farm to the most luxurious country place around—prices range from the usual on up to the million dollar level.

WHO'D WANT TO LIVE IN A BARN? Nobody but the most discriminating person looking for a most unusual home should be the owner of this spacious gem. A modern master builder with a talent for restoration stripped away the roof and siding leaving only the old stone foundation and massive hand hewn supporting beams. The Amish people who built this structure 150 years ago would not recognize it now. It has the feeling of spaciousness of a modern ski lodge with its 22 x 32 living room with fireplace. The original stone foundation is being repointed to highlight a 26 x 30 rec room with fireplace. There is a modern eat-in kitchen, 4 bedrooms, a den, 2½ baths and attached 2 car garage. Exterior is rough cedar siding for freedom from maintenance problems. It's on 3.6 rolling acres and it's priced at 89,000

BEAUTIFUL BRICK RANCH ON A QUIET PRINCETON STREET. A custom built brick ranch with three bedrooms, 2 baths, extra large eat-in kitchen with adjacent laundry room, a log burning fireplace in the living room and another in the basement. Central air and big brick patio. Don't disturb this quiet neighborhood by driving by but call us to show it to you. Asking $64,900 and open to offers.

DO COLONIAL HOMES ON WOODED LOTS APPEAL TO YOU? We have four beauties in nearby Lawrence Township from $46,500 to $51,900. Some with air conditioning, some with fireplaces.

WANT PEOPLE TO LOOK UP TO YOU? Everyone who drives by stares up at this unusual house. It's high on a heavily wooded hillside. It enjoys a commanding view of woods and valley. It's built of stone and has a marble and redwood interior with three stone fireplaces. There is much glass area so well oriented that the sun provides winter warmth yet the trees prevent undue summer heat. It's offered in an unfinished state at $76,000. Phone for details.

MONTGOMERY TWP. HIDE-A-WAY. You'll find this home so convenient to Princeton yet secluded on its 3½ acres. There's a lot of glass area to enjoy the view. There's 2 huge porches to enjoy the outdoors. There's 4 bedrooms and 2 full baths, 2 half baths, and a 3 car carport plus a planned in-law apartment that you could readily finish to your liking.
Asking $71,500

RENTAL: on the bus line in Kingston, 4 room and bath apartment. $225/month plus utilities

JUST LISTED OVER THE WEEKEND:

IN LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP'S DESIRABLE PINE KNOLL, which takes its name from the Pine Forest it used to be, here is one of the loveliest colonials to be seen in a long time. Especially built one foot longer than any of its neighbors . . . a frame two-story on a half acre, with tall trees, lovely yard and patio . . . beautifully decorated throughout. Foyer, living room, dining room, family room, den, eat-in kitchen; four bedrooms, two and a half baths. Air conditioned. Within walking distance of elementary school . . . and golf course! $52,500.

A DARLING BUNGALOW IN GRIGGSTOWN. Two-story frame on a half acre of tall trees and lovely landscaping. A rare opportunity these days for the young family to build equity. Kept in perfect condition by its retiring owner, completely renovated within the last year with new roof, pump, and freshly painted outside. Immaculate interior featuring vestibule, living room, dining room, den or 3rd bedroom, full bath, large family kitchen, utility room, full basement, two bedrooms upstairs. Two-car garage. $29,900

A REALLY SUPER HOUSE ON TAYLOR ROAD IN SOUTH BRUNSWICK TOWNSHIP, where the schools have been heralded in the Saturday Review. A cedar shake and frame colonial on almost an acre of beautiful landscaping with a fenced-in vinyl in-ground pool! Center hall, living room and dining room (each with parquet floors), panelled family room with brick-walled fireplace, large eat-in kitchen with oodles of cabinets, utility room, powder room, screened porch. Upstairs features a huge master bedroom with THREE CLOSETS, dressing area and bath, three other bedrooms and hall bath. Dry basement with workbench and storage. Two-car garage. City water and sewer. Taxes: $1557! $58,500

NOT TO MENTION . . .
WINFIELD DRIVE, PRINCETON TOWNSHIP . . . a brick and frame custom colonial resting comfortably on three acres beyond a circular drive enhanced by a carpet-like lawn and lush shrubs and plantings. Slate floored entry; inviting living room; dining room with chair rail; combination family room-kitchen with brick fireplace, pine panelled right down to the many closets, rounded out by sliding glass doors to the deck overlooking the rhododendron garden; powder room; large panelled recreation room or future library with bay window; utility room AND AN ADDED PLUS on the first floor—master bedroom suite with fireplace, large bath and dressing area. Two finished bedrooms and full bath upstairs with an extra bedroom and bath roughed in and ready for the finishing touches. Centrally air-conditioned and many other features. $132,500

BEST BUY AROUND . . . in Hopewell Borough, convenient to Princeton and a short hop, skip and jump to the Reading Station for commuting to New York, we have a family-loved four bedroom bi-level that's just ten years old. The owner has been past president of of the Hopewell Garden Club, and the landscaping reflects it! Exquisite trees, shrubs, and plantings abound. Carpeted living room, dining room, kitchen, hall, panelled family room with sliding glass doors to the brick patio, 1½ baths, large two-car garage. $39,900

HOW ABOUT A FACTORY IN HOPEWELL TO CALL YOUR OWN? It's a nice spot for escaping, perfect for a studio, great storage if you need a warehouse, not bad for assembling, addressing, you-name-it! Terms. $22,500

ONE OF PRINCETON'S PRETTIEST YARDS IS NOW AVAILABLE . . . a super house comes with it too . . . built 13 years ago by its present owners and only a stone's throw from the Littlebrook School, it has been embellished and enhanced by them until it is now ready for the next lucky family to turn the key and move right in! A split colonial on a park-like lot . . . tall trees, shrubs, completely fenced yard, picnic grove! House features entry, living room, dining room, fully equipped kitchen, three bedrooms, two baths, utility room with washer and dryer, attic storage, basement, two-car garage, lots of expansion possibilities. Centrally air-conditioned. $56,500

ROYAL OAK DRIVE in nearby Lawrence Township. A perfect family house with a divine yard for the children. 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, famiy room with fireplace. Living room, dining room, nice kitchen. In excellent condition. Just turn the key! Just $41,000!

LIKE TO LIVE NEAR A BATTLEFIELD AND YET KEEP YOUR COOL? How about a centrally air-conditioned pink brick ranch on Parkside Drive? Large living room & fireplace, dining room, sunny kitchen, two bedrooms, two baths, panelled den with wet bar and powder room. Full basement, huge attic! Nice grounds. $99,500

DENNICK COURT, Lawrence . . . a gem on a cul-de-sac . . . 3 year-old brick split colonial. 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, playroom, study, living room, family room. 2.6 acres. Air conditioned. Beautiful wallpapers and carpeting. Dreamy kitchen. $62,500

MOVING SOON? TO ANOTHER CITY? WE CAN HELP YOU THERE, TOO! CALL TODAY FOR DETAILS . . . AT NO OBLIGATION, OF COURSE . . . ABOUT OUR "RED CARPET" SERVICE THROUGHTOUT THE NATION. OUR AFFILIATED OFFICES WILL MEET & GREET YOU, MAKE RESERVATIONS, GIVE TOURS, AND FIND THE RIGHT NEW HOUSE FOR YOU AND YOUR FAMILY.
